"The Friendship," Where the White House Bride and Groom Are Spending the Early Days of Their Honeymoon.

BRIDE AND GROOM ENJOY PERFECT SECLUSION

Iron Gates and Mounted Police Guard the Longworths from Intruders.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Massive iron gates, closed and locked and guarded by mounted bicycle police, insured to Representative Longworth and his bride the seclusion which they sought when they chose "Friendship," the beautiful country home of John R. McLean, on Tenalleytown road, for the first part of their honeymoon. Today they did not leave the house, and those on guard said that no one had passed through the gates going to or from the mansion.

Contrary to the curiosity which was so marked yesterday, when thousands clung to the iron bars of the White House fence and peered between them in the hope of seeing something of the bride and bridegroom or even of members of the household or of the bridal party, there were no sightseers around "Friendship" today, and the police report that no attempt at intrusion has been made. Even the street cars, which run directly in front of the main entrance, carried no more than their usual Sunday crowds and the strollers who took advantage of the weather to get out into the country seemed to prefer other roads.

Had there been any desire on the part of the public to spy upon the young people, it would have had to go unsatisfied. The house stands back from the highway about half a mile, and is only two stories high, so that barely the roof and chimneys can be glimpsed from the outside of the grounds. In addition, thick woods intervene, so that the Longworths' isolation from the world is practically perfect. Although the place is almost within the city, the tract is so vast, 85 acres or more, that it constitutes in itself practically a one-house suburb, and the Longworths could easily take a mile walk within the low stone walls without observation.

The weather was pleasant most of the day and the couple took a stroll around the beautiful grounds. It was said at the house tonight that there had not been any callers.

Future plans of the Longworths have not yet been announced. It was originally intended that they should remain at "Friendship" for at least four days, and last night it was stated at the place that they would remain there until at least Monday. It is probable that they will make an effort to leave the city on their bridal trip without attracting attention and without letting their destination become known.

FIRE DESTROYS SIX BLOCKS.

Flames Sweep Business Section of Rutland, Vt., and Cause About $750,000 Damage.

RUTLAND, VT., Feb. 18.—Six large brick blocks in the business section of the city, occupied by nearly a score of firms and many smaller tenants, were destroyed by fire today. The loss on the entire property is estimated at $750,000. The fire went beyond the control of the local department and help was summoned from Whitehall, N. Y., and other places.

The heaviest losses are William Y. W. Ripley estate, $80,000; Dr. A. J. Mead, $50,000; A. H. Abraham, $25,000; Wilson & Root, $35,000; J. L. Baker, $40,000; the Tuttle Company, $100,000; Cranston and Combination Cash Store block, $60,000; Combination Cash Store Company's stock, $125,000. The insurance amounts to about two-thirds.

When the Buford met the Tunamoto she was dismasted and without provisions. The barkentine was en route from Tokyo to Marcus island. She was abandoned by the crew taken aboard the Buford.

Three Railroaders Badly Hurt.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Martin King, assistant road foreman of engines of this place; Frank Kelley, brakeman, and John Baker, brakeman, both of Cumberland, were seriously injured while riding in a caboose on a Baltimore & Ohio fast freight near Bear Run, Pa. The accident was caused by the breaking of the coupling between the caboose and the car which it followed.

ALL SAFE IN CHINA, REPORTS BISHOP BASHFORD

Missionary Society Hears That There Is No Danger of Uprising in Orient.

All are safe in China. No danger apparent.—Cablegram from Bishop Bashford of the Methodist Episcopal church at Shanghai.

Tientsin—No disturbance. Safe.

Nanking—No trouble anywhere.

Foochow—Foochow and Hinghua quiet.

Chungking—All quiet.

The foregoing are responses from the mission treasurers in north, central, west and south China, dated February 17.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—In view of the many disturbing reports concerning the conditions in China and the possibility of further outbreaks such as those at Lienchow and Shanghai, and the consequent anxiety of relatives and friends of missionaries in China, the secretaries of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church sent cablegrams of inquiry to Bishop Bashford at Shanghai, and also to representatives of the several missions of that church at Tientsin, North China, Nanking, Central China, Chungking, West China, and Foochow for the Foochow and Hinghua missions, as follows:

"Wire us present situation in respect to danger to persons and property in your mission according to your best information."

No News of Trouble.

These cablegrams were sent on Thursday and Friday, February 15 and 16. That to Bishop Bashford covered all the Methodist missions in China. He recently returned from an official visit to the West China mission, coming down the river through the Central China mission, whose chief stations are on the Yangtse. In the late fall he spent some weeks in the Foochow and Hinghua missions, in the south, where there has been the most agitation among the Chinese people.

Not a letter received recently at the missionary office, from any Methodist missionary in China, speaks of any trouble or excitement among the Chinese, or expresses any apprehension of an outbreak. The secretaries of the Missionary society add to the foregoing statement the following:

The Leaven of the West.

As China is in a transition state and the leaven of western ideas is working in the mass, some ferment is to be expected, but any general uprising such as the Boxer movement is, in the opinion of the best informed, not probable. The veteran missionary, Dr. Arthur Smith, author of "China in Convulsion," expects some trouble and sporadic outbreaks, but does not believe that the awful tragedy of 1900 can be repeated. The government of China knows that the vengeance of foreign nations would fall with terrible force, not only upon the dynasty, but upon the empire itself, if the terrible scene of 1900 were re-enacted.

The situation is delicate and calls for prudence on the part of the missionaries and precautionary measures by the societies. The missionaries are on the ground, many of them are men and women of large experience and know how to discern signs of coming danger. It is safe to rely on their judgment. Bishop Bashford is in Shanghai keeping careful watch over the safety of our missionaries. He will be quick to see signs of danger and give warning.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Shanghai says: "Nothing is known here of conditions requiring the dispatch of United States troops to China. There is no marked anti-foreign feeling in Northern or Central China."

CLASH WITH TROOPS IN HUNGARY MAY COME TODAY

Crown Determined to Dissolve Parliament by Force If Necessary.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BUDAPEST, Feb. 18.—Tomorrow bids fair to be an important and significant day in the conflict which the Hungarian people, represented by the parliamentary coalition, is waging against the throne for the recognition of constitutional liberty as against the royal prerogative. Parliament will be dissolved by the crown, by force of arms if necessary; but up to tonight, there is no information as to the method that will be employed by the crown to compass this end, as the coalition is equally in the dark with the public.

The coalition has no program of action. It is prepared to enter its protest in any way possible and has provided for all contingencies. The last meeting held by the party showed that its spirit was clearly for resistance. It was declared then that the crown's allowed unconstitutional act should be resisted in order to show to the world that it would not be accepted by the Hungarian people. Both sides declare that they are in the right and are confident of success.

It was reiterated tonight that the government had brought a regiment of Roumanian troops to Budapest.

RUSSIAN TOWN IN FLAMES.

Anti-Jewish Riot Revived—Political Meeting at Moscow Thrown into Panic by Revolutionists.

KIEFF, RUSSIA, Feb. 18.—An anti-Jewish riot broke out today at Vietka, a town of 6,000 inhabitants near Gomel. A large part of the town is in flames and troops have been sent there from Gomel. It is not known whether there were any fatalities.

WARSAW, Feb. 18.—In pursuance of the campaign of interference with the elections to the national assembly, a band of 30 social revolutionaries today invaded a political meeting in the city hall and broke it up by shouting, firing revolvers and smashing the furniture. The thousand electors present fled in panic.

CONFUSION OF TONGUES.

Raided Speakeasy Is Quiet Because No Two of Its Visitors Speak the Same Language.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—(Special.)—A cosmopolitan speakeasy, where eight nations were represented by the eight prisoners taken, was raided by the police last night.

When the police entered the place they were surprised at its quietude. The reason was apparent later when it was learned that by reason of the diversity in language the occupants were unable to talk to one another. The prisoners represented Russia, Finland, Spain, Sweden, Germany, Italy, Greece and East India.

GOV. PENNYPACKER WILL ADDRESS CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Gov. Pennypacker arrived here tonight to attend the National Divorce convention that is to meet tomorrow. The convention is for the purpose of recommending uniform divorce laws to the various states, and Gov. Pennypacker will make an address at tomorrow's session.

DIRECTOR E. M. BIGELOW IS WORKING ONLY FOR HIS FRIENDS

Edward M. Bigelow, director of the department of public works, last night issued the following formal statement, defining his position in the present campaign:

"An unwarranted attempt has been made to establish the charge that I have been and am now disloyal to the nominees of the Citizens party. The charge is untrue. In the present campaign I have confined my efforts to assisting the men who have stood loyally by me in the campaigns of recent years. In every instance these men are running on the Citizens ticket which has at its head George W. Guthrie. These I have aided to the best of my ability. It is true that I was asked some time since to help secure campaign funds for the mayoralty fight. I met with the chairmen and leaders of the Democratic and Citizens parties to discuss this subject. Asking nothing for myself, I did request that some assurance be given as to how my friends in the city administration would be treated. I could get none, and therefore reached the conclusion that the only thing for which I was wanted was to finance the fight, and nothing more. Under the circumstances I decided to confine my active work to aiding such candidates as have in the past aided me. In every instance, as I have already said, they are running on the Citizens ticket. If that is disloyalty to the Citizens party, it is a surprise to me.

"I have made no deals with any person, and will make no deals. As I have recently stated, I intend to retire from public life on the 1st of April, and I do not believe that I should be maligned and maliciously misrepresented at the present time."

BIGELOW REPEATS HE WILL QUIT ON APRIL 1

Refuses to Raise Campaign Fund for Guthrie—Aims to Control Councils.

Director Bigelow says the Guthrie campaign managers would not openly promise to take care of his friends on the city payroll, and that he refused to solicit campaign funds for Guthrie. The director states further that he is taking no part in the mayoralty campaign for this reason, and that he is devoting his efforts wholly to elect men to councils who have supported him in the past.

The director confesses this to the public in a statement he gave out last night. Mr. Bigelow denies emphatically that he has made a deal with any person, and reiterates that he is going to retire from office on the first of April, regardless of who is elected mayor.

The director's reference to campaign funds is in reply to the charges made by the Guthrie managers during the past week that Mr. Bigelow received campaign funds which they say were intended to get votes for Guthrie, but which, they claim, Mr. Bigelow is using in ward contests for councils. Mr. Bigelow does not say that he is not spending his money lavishly to elect his supporters to councils.

On the contrary, he says he is conducting an energetic campaign of his own to return to the city councils the men who have served him well during the past few years. Mr. Bigelow's repeated assurance that he is going to retire from office on the first of April eliminates him as a factor in the contest for mayor, but does not lessen the efforts he is making to get control of the city councils, particularly of the select branch. As he states, his councilmanic candidates are on tickets headed by George W. Guthrie for mayor, and the election of his candidates will be helped materially by votes cast for Guthrie. The surest way to defeat Bigelow councilmen is to vote the straight Republican ticket.

There was consternation among the Guthrie managers last night when they heard of the statement issued by Director Bigelow, and they promptly issued a counter statement, signed by W. J. Brennen, J. W. Clark and J. P. Shaw, claiming that Director Bigelow and Republican City Chairman Leslie had met at a downtown hotel one day during the past week and agreed that the support of the Republican organization should be given Bigelow candidates for councils in return for the support of the director and his employes to A. M. Jenkinson. Neither the name of the hotel nor the time of meeting is mentioned in the statement, which is looked upon as an eleventh-hour campaign canard.

JOHN B. STETSON DIES.

Philadelphia Hat Manufacturer and Philanthropist Succumbs to Apoplexy.

DELAND, FLA., Feb. 18.—John B. Stetson, the millionaire hat manufacturer of Philadelphia, died at his winter home at Gillen, near Deland, at 1 o'clock today. Mr. Stetson was stricken with apoplexy this morning and died without regaining consciousness. His wife was the only member of his immediate family present. The family and friends will leave on the midnight train for Philadelphia with the body. The entire town of Deland is in mourning. Mr. Stetson was the son of a hatter and was born in Orange, N. J., in 1829. He learned his father's trade, and went to Philadelphia in 1865. He opened a small shop and prospered.

Mr. Stetson was a man of benevolent instincts and about the great Stetson plant is a cluster of charitable organizations which are helpful to his 3,500 workmen and their families. Mr. Stetson founded the John B. Stetson university at Deland and was its principal supporter. He leaves a widow, two sons and a married daughter.

JOHN A. M'CALL'S SUFFERING ENDS IN DEATH

Former Head of Insurance Company Succumbs After Hearing Probers' Report.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—John Augustine McCall, until recently president of the New York Life Insurance Company, died at 5:35 o'clock this afternoon at the Laurel house, Lakewood, N. J., where he had been taken three weeks ago in the hope that the change might benefit his health, which had suffered a breakdown two months ago. The news of the death was not given out by the family until some time after the end.

He had been unconscious since about 1 o'clock this morning, except possibly for a moment this afternoon, when his eyes opened and looked into the face of his wife, who was bending over him. He smiled and as he did so his eyes closed again and he remained in a state of coma until the end.

Mr. McCall's physical collapse occurred about the close of the investigation of the life insurance affairs in this state by the legislative committee December last. The report of the committee is expected to be submitted to the legislature at Albany early this week. Mr. McCall's examination before the committee was a severe one.

Worried by Investigation.

The ordeal he underwent in rehearsing in detail the affairs of the company and in divulging transactions about

FATES AGAINST GUTHRIE IN RACE FOR MAYOR

A Democrat Cannot Be Elected to Rule the Greater Pittsburgh.

VICTORY IS CERTAIN

City Payroll in Revolt and Many Democratic Workers Repudiate Their Candidate.

EVEN LARKIN IS APATHETIC

The fear of Greater Pittsburgh, which will be sixth in population in the United States, falling into the hands of the Democracy, and of a mammoth state machine being erected by Democratic National Committeeman James M. Guffey upon the foundations of the patronage of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, soon to be consolidated, has driven thousands of former Republicans back into the party camp and the election tomorrow of Alexander M. Jenkinson as the first mayor of the Greater Pittsburgh is assured beyond a doubt.

To avert the possible calamity of a Democrat being elected the first mayor to rule over the greater city, comprising half a million people, Republicans of all degree, regulars and irregulars, have been brought together in a common cause, and all signs point to the triumph of the Republican candidate and the defeat of his Democratic opponent by a majority exceeding anything claimed by either side.

The Greater Pittsburgh movement, now under way, will bring the present city of Allegheny and all its patronage, together with that of Pittsburgh and eventually of the county, under the control of the man who shall be first executive of the greater city. Even should a Republican mayor be elected tomorrow in Allegheny and a Democrat be elected in Pittsburgh the entire administration of the two cities in a few short months would be under Democratic control, including offices and councils.

With this great patronage at his command it would be a comparatively easy matter for a Democratic mayor of the greater city to gain control of the greater city councils, and to shape and mold all public policies and legislation at his will for three years, and to so intrench his party in power as to convert the Greater Pittsburgh from a Republican city to a Democratic stronghold for years after.

Such a tide has set toward Jenkinson that the Democratic managers are resorting to the most desperate tactics to save their candidate. Realizing that they can no longer hope to elect Guthrie as a Democrat they are making lavish

FRENCH PRESIDENT IS INAUGURATED

M. Fallieres Takes Office Amid Applause of Crowds Surrounding the Palace.

KIND WORDS FROM M. LOUBET

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Clement Armand Fallieres today assumed the duties of president of France, while former President Loubet passed into private life. The ceremony of the transmission of office took place in the Elysee palace this afternoon, while the crowds that were massed in the surrounding streets shouted "Long live the President" and "Long live Fallieres!" and every military garrison in France thundered a salute of 21 guns.

President Loubet, surrounded by the members of his cabinet, the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies and the members of his military household welcomed M. Fallieres and in a few earnest words committed the executive functions to the new president. The reply of M. Fallieres was without formality. It was a simple acceptance of the new responsibilities and an assurance of his best efforts in carrying them out.

M. Fallieres and Loubet wore evening dress with the broad scarlet sashes of the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor across their breasts. The presence of their military staffs in full uniform gave a touch of brilliancy to the scene within the palace, while the escorts of cuirassiers, which accompanied M. Fallieres and Loubet to and from the palace gave fitting dignity to the occasion.

Paris Remained Calm.

Following the ceremony the former president and his family withdrew to their private apartment in the Rue Dante. President Fallieres did not remain long at the palace, returning to his former home, where his wife awaited him. President and Madame Fallieres will take up their residence at the Elysee palace tomorrow.

Paris remained perfectly calm while the transmission of power was taking place, there being few flags or street decorations and no processions or other spectacular features similar to those seen at an inauguration of a president of the United States. The minister of war gave the soldiers a half holiday with extra wine and their barracks throughout the city were gay with flags; but otherwise the streets presented the usual Sunday aspect.

President Loubet awaited his successor in the Salon des Ambassadeurs, where the formal transmission took place. After welcoming the president-elect, President Loubet said:

Loubet's Farewell Speech.

Your long and brilliant services to the republic assure the success of your presidency and the well being of the republic and country. Throughout my administration, which is now brought to a close, I have sought to establish peace, union and concord among all good citizens, that they might labor together in the upbuilding of our institutions of social progress and in strengthening the bonds between France and other countries. The future will say if I have realized some of this program, to which I have consecrated all my efforts.

Thanks to the constant support of parliament, the relations between France and other nations have been constantly fortified, and we may have full confidence in the maintenance of peace and the security of the national honor.

President Loubet closed with evidence of much emotion. M. Fallieres responded as follows:

I am profoundly touched by the cordiality of the welcome given me. I come here simply as one goes to a duty, knowing that I will be sustained in my task by the recollection of the high civic virtues of which you have never ceased to set an example during the too short years of your term as president. I take up these great responsibilities hoping that I may fulfill them as you have done under all circumstances. Like you, I will be everything to France and to the republic.

This evening Premier Rouvier formally handed the resignation of the cabinet to President Fallieres. The new president, however, requested the ministry to continue in office.

DENIES BIG OIL DEAL.

T. N. Barnsdall Emphatically Refutes Rumor of Sale of Interests for $33,000,000.

Advices from Parkersburg, W. Va., last night, stated that T. N. Barnsdall of this city, together with Scott Glenn of Parkersburg, had disposed of their enormous oil and gas holdings in the Indian territory for a sum approximating $35,000,000.

Mr. Barnsdall was seen last night and declared that there was absolutely no truth in the rumor, that his holdings in the southwest had not been offered nor were they for sale.

"In the first place, the figures quoted are ridiculously excessive," declared Mr. Barnsdall, "and furthermore, I propose to work my properties and get out of them whatever might be in them."

Operators in the Indian territory, Oklahoma territory and Kansas fields, met in Bartlesville, I. T., last week and authorized a committee to appeal to Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock to have the oil leases on Indian reservations modified so as not to compel immediate drilling by lessees, as there was an overproduction of oil at present. These territories are producing 50,000 barrels of oil daily, too much to keep prices within fair profits. In this connection it had been reported that the Barnsdall interests were inclined to sell rather than curtail production, but Mr. Barnsdall's firm denial last night would also contradict that rumor.

THE LATE JOHN A. McCALL AND THE PALATIAL HOME HE WAS FORCED TO SACRIFICE

JOHN M'CALL'S SUFFERING ENDS

which the general public was ignorant, worried him greatly. Mr. McCall was ill in bed at his home in this city when he affixed his signature to his letter of resignation from the presidency of the New York Life.

About three weeks ago his condition became such that his physicians and family deemed it advisable to remove him to Lakewood. During all this time Mr. McCall worried constantly about his business affairs. He was compelled first to mortgage and then to sell his handsome country place at Long Branch, N. J., in order, it was stated, to repay to the New York Life Insurance Company $285,000 on the Andrew Hamilton account. Mr. Hamilton, the legislative agent of the company, having made no accounting for this sum.

Mr. McCall had promised when the Hamilton disclosures first were made to repay the amount named if by a certain date a satisfactory statement was not forthcoming from Hamilton, who is now sojourning in Paris. The directors of the New York Life at the expiration of the time set called upon Mr. McCall for the payment of the money. He acceded to the demands, paying $85,000 in cash and giving his notes for $150,000, the latter being secured by a mortgage on his country place which he later sold subject to the mortgage.

Sacrifices His Home.

Mr. McCall realized in all something over $300,000 for the property which was said to have cost him just double that amount.

When all hope had been lost Mr. McCall suddenly rallied. It was an effort of the mind and will, however, and not a physical improvement. The attending physicians foresaw the approaching end and so warned his family, who remained with the sick man from that time to the period of dissolution.

Mr. McCall's mental effort to shake off his ailments was the result of the report of the Fowler investigating committee, composed of directors of the New York Life, who censured Mr. McCall severely for certain acts of his in connection with the legislative bureau established by him, with Andrew Hamilton at its head.

The attending physicians notified the family at 1 o'clock this afternoon that the end was close at hand. Mrs. McCall had been at the bedside constantly since last evening. All of the seven children were summoned. It was announced Mr. McCall's death was due to enlargement of the liver and that the end had been peaceful and without pain. The body will be brought to New York tomorrow morning.

Mrs. McCall is now under medical care. She had become worn out by the long vigil at the bedside of her husband and when he died she practically collapsed. It is thought her condition will not develop seriously. If Mrs. McCall is able the entire family will come to New York on the funeral train. If not some of the children will remain at Lakewood with their mother. The body will be sent to the McCall residence in West Seventy-second street. The funeral service, the date of which has not been fixed, will be held at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament. Bishop James A. McFaul of the Trenton diocese arrived in Lakewood last evening, but did not see Mr. McCall, who had long been his friend. This morning at 7 o'clock the bishop said mass in the Church of Our Lady of the Lake, at Lakewood, during which he offered prayers for the recovery of the stricken man.

An Honorable Career.

John Augustine McCall was born in Albany in 1849, went to school in Gander Bay, worked as butcher's boy, took a course in a business school, and obtained a place in the State Currency Assorting House. From there he went into the office of the Connecticut Mutual Life, and was appointed, at the age of 20, to a $900 clerkship in the state insurance department. From that time until his resignation from the New York Life, on January 4, 1906, he had been continuously in insurance.

His father had been Democratic supervisor of his ward. Politics, politicians and the insurance department became familiar to him early. In a sketch of him published in 1899 it was remarked that "from the first he had undergone preparation and constant education" for the place he had then attained, and that the singular thing about his career was "he had come to his distinction through public service."

At twenty-five he was receiving $1,200 a year as clerk in the insurance department. Appointment came to him first through the Democratic organization. Republicans kept him in office, and he served under three different Republican superintendents of insurance. Reaching the grade of official examiner, he began a crusade against "wildcat" companies and was promoted to be deputy superintendent. Governor Cleveland made him head of the department and Governor Hill continued him in office until 1888.

Offer from Equitable.

Then the Equitable Life offered him $15,000 a year as controller. Presently, when the president of the New York Life, Mr. Beers, was forced out, Mr. McCall was selected for the vacancy. In Albany he had been from boyhood a familiar of Eugene Wood, Andrew Hamilton and Anthony Brady, and his knowledge of Albany men and processes led the chiefs of other great insurance companies to rely upon him for direction in affairs connected with legislative and executive departments.

Handling the vast funds of the New York Life brought Mr. McCall into touch with greater finance. In Mr. Cleveland's administration, when uncertainty existed as to the ability of the government to float a popular loan, Mr. McCall was first to bid for $10,000,000. The large capital held by the institution he presided over enabled him to say to Mr. McKinley that if war were declared upon Spain he could take another $10,000,000 government loan.

His service in the New York Life covered 14 years, and at the last he was receiving a salary of $100,000.

"My work has been well done," he said when he finally yielded his place. "Risks have been soundly selected; assets have been wisely invested."

He admitted errors, and declared: "They probably seem greater to me today than they seem to any tolerably just observer, but no officer or trustee has improperly profited a dollar at the expense of the policy holders."

At that time the investigations of the Armstrong legislative committee were just ended. He had testified that if he died then his estate would not amount to $1,000,000, and that half of it was insurance on his life. He pledged himself to restore to the funds of the company any sum advanced to Andrew Hamilton, of Albany, which Hamilton should fail to turn back.

He gave $85,000 in cash, the rest, amounting in all to $235,000, in notes secured by a mortgage on Shadow Lawn, his house at Long Branch. This house was sold for about $750,000. As there was a prior mortgage upon it Mr. McCall's net proceeds from it were $100,000.

Thirty years ago he married Mary I. Horan of Albany. He was a member of the Metropolitan, Merchants', Lawyers' and Manhattan clubs.

Charles Hoskhart of Main street, Allegheny, was held up early yesterday morning in River avenue, near Chestnut street, by four men, who robbed him of his watch and a small sum of money. His cries for help attracted Officer Nicholas Keisch, who pursued the highwaymen down River avenue and fired several shots at them. They dropped the watch, which was found by the officer, but escaped over the Ninth street bridge.

KNOX IS ARBITER OF RATE MEASURE

Pittsburgh Senator Frames an Amendment for the Hepburn Bill.

AN AGREEMENT IS EXPECTED

Special Telegram From
E. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—There is evidence that a satisfactory agreement will be reached by senators on the railroad rate bill that will result in the passage of a measure by a practically unanimous vote. President Roosevelt having stated that he will accept any amendments to the Hepburn bill that were satisfactory to Senator Knox, it is understood that those who have been opposed to the bill in its present form will also agree to accept such amendments as Mr. Knox will approve. In this way the Pennsylvania senator will become the arbiter of rate legislation, and it is probable that through his good offices what has threatened to become a very serious complication will be avoided.

At the request of the President, Senator Knox has already drafted an amendment covering the provision for a review of the decision of the interstate commerce commission by the courts. He and Attorney-General Moody conferred and Mr. Knox submitted his ideas in the form of an amendment which is in the hands of the attorney-general and which likely will be offered in the form of a committee amendment. The position taken by Senator Knox on this question has been that the bill should either recognize the right of the courts to review the commission's decisions or it should not, and as it is pretty generally conceded that the bill would be unconstitutional if it did not, then the provision for such court review should be specific and should prescribe how it should be done. It is safe to assume that such an amendment will be adopted.

There will be several other amendments offered with the likelihood of being incorporated in the bill. They are not any of them considered of great importance, but several legal points are in the nature of perfecting the bill. None of them will change the meaning of the bill. It is probable that all of them will be submitted to Senator Knox, and if they are satisfactory to him, they will be acceptable to the President and probably to a majority of the senators.

Next Friday the senate committee on interstate commerce will vote on the question of which bill it will report to the senate. The committee was unable to reach a decision last week as was anticipated, but it is expected that a report will be decided upon this week. In order that the views of all may be obtained if some of the committeemen are absent on that day it has been decided to permit them to vote by telegraph.

While Senator Knox has endeavored to avoid taking an active part in the framing of a rate bill, he has been obliged to take a hand in the work at the insistence of the President and many of his colleagues. He has stated that his only desire in the matter is to get a bill through which will accomplish what the administration set out to accomplish and to make one that will stand the test of the courts. As the framer of the legislation through which he was able to enforce the anti-trust laws in the Northern Securities case, he demonstrated his ability in this direction, and hence his services are in demand in this crisis.

A number of company hands were at work Saturday night in the mine, and it is thought they went to the shanty to rest and eat lunch. It is thought heat from a steam pipe ignited and exploded the powder.

The men killed are: William Mentz, aged 25, single; John Taylor Williams, aged 30, leaves widow and two children; Owen O. Anthony, aged 45, leaves widow and eight children; Anthony Shulrune, Polish, aged 25, leaves widow and one child.

PRESIDENT TAKES A HAND IN THE INDIAN FRAUD CASES

Mr. Roosevelt Countermands Proposal to Quash Indictments Already Found—Officials of the Government Are Involved.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—President Roosevelt has taken personal interest in the charges of fraud and corruption which are said to have occurred in connection with the affairs of the Five Civilized tribes in the Indian territory. But for his interference indictments against several parties alleged to have been engaged in illegal practices would have been quashed. Now, however, under his orders, the interior department is pushing its investigations with increased vigor, and it is reliably stated that in the near future a number of new indictments will be reported against not only several men already indicted, but they will also include a number of persons whose names have not heretofore been brought into the cases, including a high government official in Washington.

When it became known to the President that the district attorney for Indian territory had been instructed to quash some indictments already found, he immediately sent orders countermanding this proposed action. He was led to do this by information received by him that after March 4, when the tribal relations of the Five Civilized tribes cease, certain facts would be put into his possession which would strengthen the hands of the government in its efforts to bring to trial a number of persons guilty of gross frauds perpetrated against the Indians.

It is known that Secretary Hitchcock has submitted to the President and to Attorney General Moody a special report dealing with the whole subject which, it is said, gives such details as to make it imperative for the government to act. For obvious reasons the report for the present at least will not be made public, but Secretary Hitchcock characterizes the disclosures it makes as "startling."

WILL TAKE UP MILEAGE CASES

Attorney General Carson to Begin Proceedings Against Railroads.

TRAVELING MEN ARE ANXIOUS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.

Attorney General Carson said today that he will take up the question of the mileage cases next Thursday. He has a great amount of official business to be attended to in the meantime and is not yet ready to say what his line of action will be. He said:

"It is a very serious matter and one entirely new. It is all the more difficult on this account, as there are no precedents. I intend going into it very cautiously and am giving every detail of the subject the most careful consideration. Of course, it would never do for a general to make known his tactics before an engagement. That would show his hand, and the enemy would thus be put on the defensive. On this account I prefer to say nothing of my plans just yet."

Meanwhile the Merchants and Travelers' association continues to receive voluminous correspondence on the subject. Many merchants and travelers have written to the Pennsylvania officials asking for explanations of their position with regard to the 2½ deposit on mileage books and to nearly all of these General Passenger Agent Boyd has replied that if this deposit were removed the railway company saw no reason why the interchangeable mileage plan should not be abolished.

SCANDAL IS UNEARTHED AT GOVERNMENT ASYLUM

Cruel Treatment of Inmates Is the Charge Made by an Investigating Committee.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A committee composed of Charles M. Timmons and Attorney Richard P. Evans, appointed by the Medico-Legal society of the District of Columbia to investigate the condition of affairs at St. Elizabeth's Government Asylum for the Insane, located near this city, have made a report to the society, in which serious statements are made regarding the management at that institution. A copy of the report will be sent to the President and it is said the grand jury may be called on to make an investigation.

The committee disclaims any intention or desire to reflect upon the personal integrity of Dr. White, the superintendent of the hospital, but say it would appear from complaints made to the committee that strait-jackets, handcuffs, etc., are in frequent use; that the "feeding tube" has been upon occasions thrust through the nostrils down the throat as a method of punishment and discipline as well as of alleged necessity. Many other like occurrences are reported.

The committee state the conditions surrounding many of the ex-soldiers and sailors confined in St. Elizabeth reflects no credit upon either the hospital authorities or the government. Reference is made to the "bull pen," where it it said some 500 are confined, the management of which the committee condemns.

The three men, it was learned today, were arrested after extradition papers had been signed by Gov. McDonald. Requisitions were secretly delivered to Gov. McDonald on Thursday. Gov. McDonald tonight said:

"I was surprised to learn that a special train was used to convey the officials of the Western Federation of Miners from Denver. I had no knowledge of a plan to hurry the men out of town secretly."

BITTERLY FLAYS JOHN MITCHELL

Patrick Dolan Issues Statement Denouncing National President of Mine Workers.

DECLARES HE IS INCAPABLE

President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburgh district of United Mine Workers of America issued a statement last night bitterly attacking National President John Mitchell, in which he spares no words in denouncing him as lacking courage; as using the money of the organization to defeat Dolan in the local district, and declaring that "he doesn't measure up to his job." The statement concludes with the assertion that "it takes something besides a Prince Albert coat and a carnation in the buttonhole, to make a real labor leader." The complete statement as issued by Dolan is as follows:

President Mitchell is trying to shift the responsibility for the mess he has gotten the miners of this country into by saying that I am evidently trying to divide the miners' forces. I am not. I am trying to save the miners from the dangers which threaten them because of Mitchell's lack of courage. Mitchell, and Mitchell alone, is responsible for the serious situation which confronts the miners. He got started wrong in the Joint convention, and didn't have the courage and common sense to make a temporary retreat when he saw he was worsted and should take up the fight along other lines.

He led the argument for the miners by demanding an advance in wages on the claim that prices of coal were higher at that time than they were two years ago. The operators immediately took him at his word and offered to bring in the books of all the companies in the country, large and small, and have them examined, if the miners would agree to take a reduction if the price was shown to be lower, the operators to pay an advance if the price was shown to be higher.

Mitchell Declined to Answer.

Francis L. Robbins asked Mitchell to accept that offer. Mitchell never let on he heard the question. Robbins repeated the question a half dozen times, and Mitchell sat staring into space. Robbins appealed to the chair, and the chair ruled that Mitchell ought to answer the question. Mitchell then arose and said, "I decline to answer." From that time on our cake was dough. Mitchell may say I am not smart enough to write an intelligent statement, but a man does not have to have a college education to know when he is whipped, and the operators had us whipped from that moment.

When Mitchell saw what a mess he was in he tried to scare the operators from following up their advantage by making radical statements and playing to the galleries. He thought he would scare the operators by the threat of a national strike, but the operators called our bluff. After this blunder of Mitchell's, we were in nice shape to ask the public to allow us to shut off their coal, shut down the railroads and stop the mills and factories and then have the newspapers make public sentiment for us by telling everybody how just our cause is.

From the time Mitchell made that first blunder he went from bad to worse until the Ryan resolution made our situation hopeless, and we came on without an agreement. Mitchell has always lacked courage. He is more careful of his own reputation as a successful leader than he is of the interests of his people. Never in his career has he fought against the popular tide, no matter whether it was right or wrong. Two years ago, when the operators whipped him into line for a reduction, he disappeared from the convention with an attack of what he called "nervous prostration," and after he got out of the Turkish bath he made all the miners' leaders fight to have the delegates accept the reduction before he would do so.

As to Personal Feeling.

Mitchell says I have always been unfriendly to his administration. I have not, although he has always fought me. I had the "gall" to be a candidate for national vice president against him in 1898, and he never forgave me. I have letters in my desk to prove that he sent organizers into this field and issued orders to spare no expense to have me defeated for district president in my own field. And it was the union's money, and not his own, that he was willing to be so lavish with to vent a personal spite.

It has been evident for years past to everybody connected with the labor movement that Mitchell is suffering from a common, ordinary dose of "big head." He is working all the time toward one-man power, and the truth of the matter is that he is not in touch with his own people or with the mining situation. Circumstances have made him. The tide has always been in his favor until lately, and now he doesn't measure up to his job. It takes something besides a Prince Albert coat and a carnation in the buttonhole to make a real labor leader. It takes common sense and courage, and the man who lacks either ought to hire somebody to tell him of his shortcomings and retire from his job.

Dolan, when seen yesterday, refused to make any statement regarding the election for his successor, and the action taken by the local convention in ousting him from office, any further than to say that he still considers himself president of the district and will not allow any one else to assume that office until the courts so rule.

NEWSPAPER CAR ON FIRE.

Firemen Extinguish the Flames, But Not Before 12,000 Papers Are Damaged.

Pittsburgh Railways Company's car No. M-84, known as the Newspaper Special, while carrying 12,000 Sunday newspapers yesterday morning, took fire in Penn avenue, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets. The fire started from a spark thrown from the motor into the pile of papers, which was soon ablaze.

Engine Company No. 7 responded to an alarm and extinguished the fire, but not before the papers were badly damaged. Damage to the car will amount to $75.

FALLS FROM STREET CAR.

Sudden Application of Brakes Results in Severe Injury to Israel De Roy.

Israel De Roy, the Smithfield street business man, was thrown from a street car at Pacific and Penn avenues yesterday afternoon. Mr. De Roy was getting off the front platform of the crowded car, which was slowing up, but just as he was stepping off the motorman put on the airbrake. The jerk threw Mr. De Roy to the street. His legs were badly strained, his face and head were cut and he was rendered unconscious for a time.

Mr. De Roy was removed to his home, 5513 Black street, and owing to his injuries and his age, 58 years, will be laid up for several weeks.

BOY'S CASE IS HELD OVER; NEGRO GETS HEAVY FINE

Melvin Stears of Colwell street, who is charged with stealing mileage books from the steamship agency of J. J. McCormick, Smithfield street, was remanded until today by Magistrate Kirby, when an information will be made against him. Jacob Johns, the negro porter employed at the place, was fined $50 and costs or 90 days to the workhouse. He denied Stears' story that he gave him the books, although he admitted he allowed Stears and other boys to loaf in the office.

Each Draws $50 Fine.

Ellen Edwards of 82 Ferry street, and Albert Oberi, who was found in her house, said to be a disorderly one, were each fined $50 and costs at Central station yesterday. Thomas Williams and Benjamin Kahet were held over until today. They are alleged to have stolen $20 from Frank Trust in Second avenue.

BOYS SAVE BABES FROM THE FLAMES

FIRE CLOSES ROLLING MILL

Two boys, at imminent risk to themselves, rescued two little children from the burning home of Charles Conley, 123 Sycamore street, Mt. Washington, early yesterday morning. The other members of the Conley family escaped in their night clothes. The fire started from an overheated stove in Conley's carpenter shop, next door to his residence, to which it quickly communicated. The boys were passing, and after giving the alarm, broke a window, climbed through and saved the little ones. The shop was destroyed and the house will have to be torn down. The loss is about $2,000.

Fire at 5:30 yesterday morning in the power plant of Moorhead Brothers rolling mills, Main street, Sharpsburg, damaged the dynamo and machinery to the extent of $500, covered by insurance. The dynamo is used to furnish light for the mills and power for the electric cranes and the mill was unable to operate yesterday.

Fire broke out in Joseph Simpson's saloon and restaurant, 122 and 124 Seventh street, shortly after 6 o'clock last night and about $500 worth of property was destroyed. The cause is not known. The bar fixtures were damaged and the walls were blistered. The place is fully insured.

Margaret Anglin in "Zira"

Next week, at the Belasco theater, Margaret Anglin will again present "Zira," the thrilling emotional play, in which she achieved so much success on the occasion of the opening of the Belasco theater last September. Both the star and the play were accorded the highest praise, and on going into New York, which the play did from here, every critic, without a single exception, agreed that in "Zira" Margaret Anglin had placed herself in the very front rank of emotional actresses.

HARPERS BOOKS

Randvar the Songsmith

By Otilie A. Liljencrantz.

The old tower at Newport, believed to have been built by the Vikings, and commemorated in Longfellow's poem, "The Skeleton in Armor," has furnished the cue for a romance of the Norse occupation of America.

The tale is flushed with passion and great deeds, and presents a new atmosphere where stirring fact and mystic legend meet. The author, whose "Thrall of Lief the Lucky" is widely known, has again shown her skill in re-creating the life and times of the Norsemen during their years of daring adventure and world-famed exploits.

The were-wolf myth, in all its strange fascination, is interwoven with the story with telling dramatic effect. Altogether it is a spirited romance, with real novelty of interest.

Side Lights of Spring.

New dress cottons, new silks, new dress woolens, new suits and new coats—as a matter of fact, pretty much new in everything—harbingers of Spring all around the store, and we don't know of any better time to get acquainted with Spring things than on a Monday. Hence, a cordial invitation to everyone interested in, and looking forward to, budding Spring, is invited to view the new styles here today, among which we mention several in what follows.

THE GREAT REFUSAL,

By Maxwell Gray, author of "The Silence of Dean Maitland." Handsomely bound in ornamental cloth.

In our Book Store $1.08.

This is a story of love given up for an ideal. It is a study of modern plutocracy. The young man learns by hard experience that he cannot overcome the lastness of a nation and that economic laws are as immutable as the laws of health.

From the first chapter to the last the interest is unflagging.

The Newest Spring Dress Woolens.

It would be no small task to adequately describe all the new styles in dress woolens. This, however: Most of the sheer fabrics have woven floral designs on a background of hairline stripes and checks of the same color. The result is both striking and novel. Then we have the always popular white and black and white and gray with tinted flowers and leaves interwoven with cross bars and plaids. Another fine material, quite conservative, but nevertheless effective, is the Queen's Gray Mixed Worsted in light and dark effects. The above mentioned are in demand for tailor-made gowns. Cream serges, Panamas and mohairs are also held in high favor. Our exhibit of new dress woolens for Spring is exceptionally complete and awaits a visit from you.

The New Dress Woolens in Colors—

Queen's Gray Tailor Worsted, 54 inches wide, medium weight, broken checks, hairline stripes and plaids, choice for the even $1.00 a yard.

Panama Suitings in a 54-inch width, firm, even weave, light weight, especially for Spring dresses, all the most desirable shades, 75c a yard.

Tailor Cheviots and Serges, 48 inches wide, both fine all-wool fabrics, admirable for either separate skirt or full gown, wide range of colors, 85c a yard.

Panama Checked Suiting, 48 inches wide, all wool, an exceptionally popular French weave, which looks well both in tailored suits and shirtwaist suits—white with black, with tan, with gray, with green, with strawberry—our popular price 75c a yard.

Wool Batiste, 48 inches wide, a charming material for house dresses and party dresses, shown in 20 different shades, including cream and black, a special price, 50c a yard.

The New Dress Woolens in Black—

Black materials show signs of their old-time favor, especially broadcloths and voiles. At our Black Goods Counter we make an elaborate showing of every known weave. Many exclusive designs from foreign looms.

New Black Broadcloths, sponged and shrunk, ready for the needle, medium and chiffon weight, 54 to 56-inch widths, $2.00 a yard and up to $4.00.

Black French Voiles, chiffon, medium and tailor meshes, all bright jet blacks, 44 to 46-inch widths, $1.00 and up to $2.50 a yard.

Col. Guffey's Talisman.

When that time comes the people will turn to the Democratic party for relief, and the party should be ready—ready with an organization of citizens covering every election district, who are willing to work for a love of the cause—an organization supported by as many TOWN, CITY, COUNTY AND STATE OFFICERS as we are able to elect in the meantime.—Alton B. Parker, just after his defeat for president.

Pittsburgh Democrats are working for the organization described. Republicans beware!

This is the last day in the campaign for argument. Tomorrow will come the voting. Practically all of the arguments are in. It may be assumed nearly every voter has decided how he will vote. The majority of all will vote for Jenkinson for mayor; they only need give no heed to eleventh hour roorbacks. The campaign has been won: Greater Pittsburgh will be Republican.

There are extremely pathetic aspects to the demise of former President John A. McCall of the New York Life. The charges against him weighed heavily on his mind during his illness and may have contributed materially to the fatal termination. His last words aside from those for his family and personal friends were an assertion of innocence of any wrongdoing. It must be accepted he did what he believed was right.

President Roosevelt is taking personal interest in the charges of fraud in connection with administration of the affairs of the five civilized tribes in Indian territory. He has prevented quashing of several indictments pending investigation and favors postponement of trials until the tribesmen come into the rights of full citizenship. If there has been evil in these affairs the rogues have reason to tremble, for the President is an implacable avenger.

A committee of oil operators in Oklahoma and Indian territories has been sent to Washington to induce Secretary Hitchcock to eliminate the "immediate development" clause from leases on Indian lands. This is preliminary to a serious "shut-down" movement. Territory producers are convinced they have been producing too much oil for their market and they are threatened with a bigger flood. They might have seen this a year ago had the air not been so full of legislative schemes for removing the congestion.

Reports from Methodist Episcopal missionaries in China are all optimistic. They are unanimous in the opinion there are no signs of an uprising against foreigners. It must be concluded from this that other authorities have been misled, or the Chinese are more than ordinarily skillful in concealing their intentions. Prior to the "Boxer" disturbance the missionaries were among the first to take alarm, otherwise the massacres would have been more extensive. In any case there is no harm in being prepared for the worst while we hope for the best.

Reports drift out from Washington that members of the house of representatives look coldly on the bill to improve the consular service, as it comes, amended, from the senate. The grievance is that it leaves no patronage in that quarter for representatives. The bill has not been improved by senate amendments, but it is better than none. It ought to pass. The elimination of house patronage may be followed in time by elimination of senate patronage. In fact the consular service should be wholly freed from the principle that it exists chiefly for the patronage it affords.

Senator Knox has drawn an amendment to the Hepburn railroad rate bill, covering the right of railroads or shippers to have the findings of the commission reviewed by the courts. It is expected this amendment will satisfy most of the senators who are opposed to the bill as it stands. It will almost certainly satisfy those who favor the bill. Senator Knox's elucidation of the commerce clauses of the Constitution inspires general confidence in his ability to meet the exigencies of the case and there is no shadow of doubt about his loyalty to the purpose of the President to have a regulation of rates.

At the Campaign's End.

Director Bigelow's statement is self-explanatory. It exhibits some temper, but may be accepted as substantially correct. Boiled down it means he has been unable to obtain from either candidate for mayor any assurances that his friends will be "cared for," though the Guthrie managers have expected him to raise a huge campaign fund in their interest. Instead he has devoted his energies to trying to re-elect the councilmen who have "stood by him" in recent years.

This is practically what The Gazette has said of Bigelow's activities in the campaign. Director Moore has been giving orders to employes in the department of public safety to work and vote for Guthrie—with more or less success—Mayor Hays, Director Clark, Delinquent Collector Fulton and others of the administration have been working hand in hand with Mr. Guthrie's Democratic managers. The Democratic managers worked, three years ago, for Mayor Hays on the understanding there was something coming to them. Mr. Bigelow, according to his statement, feels under no obligation to return the compliment now.

Alexander M. Jenkinson, Republican candidate, has no understanding with any of them and is under no obligation to them. He owes his nomination to a majority of all the Republican voters in the city and he will owe his election to all of the Republican voters in the city and to no one else. He will be free to serve the people and to serve them alone, because the interest of the whole body of Republican voters is identical with the interest of the whole people. If he gets any votes from the payroll it will not be as the result of any orders, but because, as individuals, they decide to assert their manhood and vote as Republicans. He has no deal with anybody.

Mr. Jenkinson will be elected because he is well equipped to give the city the kind of administration the people want and he is entirely free to do it. He will be elected because a vast majority of the people of Pittsburgh are Republicans and, other things being equal, they desire a Republican mayor. Mr. Jenkinson is a Republican. When elected Mr. Jenkinson will put no more partisanship into his administration than Mr. Guthrie would if he could be elected. There will be no politics in the administration of city affairs, but the city will be known as Republican and the mayor will be a Republican in national politics as he will have a right to be. It is all perfectly plain and right.

Gov. Pennypacker's Work.

Gov. Pennypacker has inspected and signed all but seven of the bills passed during the special session. He will give the remainder careful consideration when he returns from attending the conference at Washington on uniform divorce laws, which he has been active in promoting. Unless there be serious technical defects it is expected all of the bills will become laws, so the more the extra session is looked over, the more satisfactory it is.

It is to be hoped Gov. Pennypacker may be as successful with the divorce law conference in Washington as he has with the Pennsylvania legislature in Harrisburg. The need of uniform legislation governing marriage and divorce has long been recognized. There have been frequent attempts to secure some agreement on the subject, but all have been futile. This conference called by Gov. Pennypacker promises better results. Nearly every governor in the union has responded favorably to the invitation to send delegates and a large number have expressed hearty sympathy with the movement.

It will not be expected the conference will agree unanimously on perfect statutes governing this important subject. There is a very wide gap between the ethics of "divorce made easy" in the Dakotas and the rule of no divorce in the Carolinas. This gap can hardly be bridged by one conference. There is reason to believe, however, Gov. Pennypacker may succeed in getting agreement among the delegates on certain basic principles and that these may later be made law by the several states. South Dakota is getting ashamed of its record and other states are becoming convinced that a degree of uniformity is necessary to the good order of society.

An Old Story.

Pittsburgh is cheerfully preparing to build a costly canal to Lake Erie so as to get cheaper transportation for Lake Superior iron ores. She expects thereby to make secure her predominance in the iron industry against the competition of cities which with changing sources of supply become more favorably located.

If, however, Prof. C. Kenneth Leith of the University of Wisconsin, who addressed the Geographical society in this city a few nights ago, is right, Pittsburgh's efforts will be unavailing, for Chicago is inevitably bound to become the iron center of the country at no far distant day.

This is not a matter of next year or the year after, but of many years, possibly several decades. It is, however, one of the factors which Chicagoans cannot overlook when they discuss the future of their city. The iron industry can never dominate Chicago as it dominates Pittsburgh now, but it may be just as big here as it now is there, and be an important element, even though but a single element in the city's prosperity.—Chicago Record-Herald.

"It's the same old story, in the same old way." This lay has been sung by Chicago and Cleveland and Buffalo for so long everybody is familiar with it except the million immigrants landed last year. Probably it is intended for them, told to them in lieu of the marines.

Pittsburgh is not planning the Lake Erie canal to retain its supremacy in the manufacture of iron and steel, but to save Chicago and the northwest from freezing to death. Pittsburgh has not been smelting Pennsylvania iron ore for several decades. It has been bringing the bulk of its ore almost from or past Chicago's door. Chicago is nearer the ore supply of the present than it will be to that of Colorado or Wyoming when those deposits must be relied on, say in a century or two. Pittsburgh's supremacy, in as far as it depends on material, is assured because it is in the center of the largest and best coking coal district in the world. It is, and has been, sending to Chicago the coke for the little iron and steel business it has.

When the canal is built to Lake Erie it is expected the Pittsburgh district will send up to Lake Erie a ton and a half of coal for every ton of ore it brings down. The excess room returning will be used to bring lumber and grain from the region north of Chicago. There will be cargo both ways; that is the Pittsburgh plan and it assures Pittsburgh supremacy in more than iron and steel. If Chicago boomers can find comfort in the claim of iron and steel supremacy next century, they are welcome; Pittsburgh will not worry about it. This city is losing nothing.

Allegheny Mayoralty.

Probably the hardest blow that has been dealt Charles F. Kirschler in his campaign for mayor in Allegheny was the announcement by Mayor Wyman of his support. Mr. Kirschler, however, will survive that and reliable reports agree he will be elected. The issues in Allegheny are similar to those in Pittsburgh and political conditions do not differ greatly. The Democratic-Citizens administration on the North Side has been, if anything, more extravagant and inefficient than in Pittsburgh.

Party lines have been drawn differently over there, Mr. Logan being supported by an element not closely identified with party. No word has been said against his character as a man throughout the canvass, but the majority of people appear anxious to return to responsible party control. Mr. Kirschler is on a plane so infinitely superior to the present administration that he inspires public confidence, and will win.

London to India by Rail.

Parisian papers, which being not directly concerned naturally have the most to say about it, as is customary with gossips, are discussing the "London to India by rail" project which has already received the disapproval of Lord Curzon for military reasons. Of course it will never be possible to travel the entire distance by rail, unless the Channel tunnel to connect Dover and Calais is constructed, but the phrase is employed to indicate the plan for connecting the railroads of India with those of Russia so as to afford rapid transit from the British capital to its eastern possessions. The construction of some 35 miles of road crossing Afghanistan would make this possible, bringing Calcutta within seven days of London, say those whose plans on paper appear so feasible. There are no particular technical difficulties, we are told, and the road would possess great commercial advantages for both England and Russia.

Granting the economic advantages of this international railway, the disadvantages of another kind, especially to England, must be apparent. To Lord Curzon's objection that the road would merely afford Russia easy entrance into India, supporters of the scheme reply that Russia is now crippled for many years and the road would give England facilities for the invasion of Russia. The answer is not convincing, nor is it germane. Russia has looked with longing eyes on India. England has ever been suspicious of Russia. Closer communication may settle their differences. Such ancient enemies as England and Russia may become fair friends, as witness bridging the chasm between Albion and France. Railroad and telegraph are working out the universal brotherhood throughout the world.

Despite the reckless support given the Democratic candidate for mayor by other organs, the Post boasts it is "the only" simon-pure Democratic paper. Democratic to the core with a copperhead tinge.

Stuyvesant Fish quit the investigating committee with the declaration, "I am tired of the insurance business." Nearly all of the former presidents and some others are sick of it.

Candidate Guthrie's opinion of the 15 mills tax levy, plus a bond issue, is that it would be an outrage if levied under a Republican administration.

America, Great Britain, Russia and Japan will hold some conferences on the taking of seals. No navies will be called into play.

They may call Gov. Pennypacker "the little old man in boots," but they will sneer at their betters. The governor is all right.

Gov. Pattison proposes to enforce the Sunday closing law when he gets well. Meantime the Anti-Saloon league is unhappy.

Gov. Dawson and Senator Elkins are making faces again down in West Virginia, but the state goes on growing.

The Isle of Pines contingent appears a bit unfortunate: it has acquired the support of John T. Morgan of Alabama.

Col. Guffey has done his best to follow Judge Parker's advice, and it is not his fault he is no longer succeeding.

Gillespie of Texas appears more worried than anybody else over the loss of his railroad pass.

Mr. Guthrie's organs regard orders to the payroll as offensive when given for the other fellow.

Bluff and bluster do not win campaigns, whatever Democrats may think.

Looking back on the extra session it appears better and better.

Quiet Observations on Ways of the World

Big Money for Small Pictures by Great Artists.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

One hundred and twenty thousand dollars for 160 pictures sounds big, and it is big, but that is what was realized at the Friday night sale of the Blumenstell collection.

Wee bits of Henners, Jacques and Cazlus, 5x6 to 7x9, bringing anywhere from $300 to $1,000. A full length Henner, nude, "Andromeda," about 12x8, started at $500, and quickly ran to $1,450.

"Roaming," by Rosa Bonheur, figure of deer standing in a bit of open forest, 10x14 inches, was sold for $1,000 in about one minute. A splendid Bonheur horse, 12x15, sold the previous evening for $320.

But size does not count for much when it comes to paintings. This was shown by the sale of a sheep picture by Daubigny, 67x120 inches, for $1,550, and another, "Early Morning," by the same artist, and nearly as large, for $1,000.

Among the prime favorites was a Corot, "Nymphs Bathing," 30x40, and it is a beauty. The nymphs do not figure prominently nor immodestly, but the effect of trees and feathery foliage against a glowing sunset sky is simply irresistible. No one was surprised that it brought $7,700. Indeed, if there was any surprise, it was that it did not bring more.

A sheep picture by Jacques, "Watering the Flock," 32x44, brought $5,300.

Anyone familiar with the habits of sheep would be led to the conclusion that the great sheep painter was not very well up on the habits of sheep. He represents the flock as rushing into a shallow stream to drink. Jacques' sheep may act thus, but American sheep are as shy of water as are cats, and rarely, if ever, go to a stream to drink, and when they do they are careful not to get their feet wet.

Jacques paints chickens even better than sheep, and they sell even better, at least at more per square inch. A 5x6-inch bit, "Two Hens," one white, the other black, brought $250. Another, 5x8, a game cock and a variegated bunch of hens, sold quickly for $620.

Thus you see pictures are not sold by the square inch, but according to their value, and to the humor and fancy of buyers.

These sales were held in Mendelssohn hall, and were largely attended, the hall being filled to its full seating capacity upstairs and down. At times the bidding was rapid and strong, too, going by hundreds, and sometimes by thousands. From one to three minutes was the usual time, so that the lot of 150 was disposed of in less than three hours.

The two sales aggregated something over $170,000. Had the first night prices been correspondingly as good as the last, the aggregate would have exceeded $200,000. It seems to take at least one sale to get the people warmed up.

The feature of this event was the sale of five remarkable unique art fans.

Mr. Blumenstell conceived the idea of grouping together characteristic bits of great masters. The portfolio plan having failed, he hit upon a fan scheme, which was to have each blade of the fan painted by a different artist of note. The blades and mountings were designed and executed by Tiffany & Co. at a cost of $850 for each fan.

At first artists were slow to respond to Mr. Blumenstiel's request, but he kept at it, and after two years' effort he succeeded in completing five in 1904.

Since the work was begun in 1894 many of the great artists have died, among them Cazin, Henner, Benjamin Constant, Gerome, Jacob Maris, Boudin, Vibert, Mesdag, Minor, Vollon, all of whom are represented on the ivory blades of these fans.

The blades are not more than two inches wide, and about 15 inches long. The fans, mounted open in fine solid frames, form a semi-circle of brilliant color which of itself would possess rare value as a decoration, to say nothing of their high art value.

The first one sold for $8,800, and the last one for $12,600, the lot aggregating $48,800. The buyer had the option of taking the whole lot at the price of the first, or of the second, $6,200, but because of the drop from the first to the second it was thought they might continue to drop, but they did not.

Mr. George A. Kessler, the purchaser of the famous fans, is a wine merchant who has sold so much wine, and speculated so well, that he has millions to lavish on art, music, travel, or whatever may strike his fancy. He is a man of the world, a club man, a patron of cafes that consume much wine. He ranks among the wealthiest of Jewish merchants and has recently turned his attention to rare pictures and masterpieces in art, and when he takes it into his head to posses a thing he does not allow the price to interfere.

Some regret was expressed that these rare bits of art should have fallen into the hands they did instead of going into one of the galleries, where they could have been seen by the many and not by the few.

But in all such matters money talks, and if the wine seller has it, regardless of how he got it, he can have any picture or almost anything for which he may take a fancy.

It is just such men that run works of art up to outlandish prices. If the artists had gotten anything like a fair share of the prices which their works now bring there wouldn't be much ground for complaint.

In many instances it isn't the art value of a picture that determines its selling price, but rather the fancy or whim of some one who has the money to spend, and is anxious to become notorious for having paid a great sum for a picture which in reality is of little more value to him than a chromo would be.

Such are the ways of the world when money rules the roost.

New York, Feb. 17.

Reappointment Commended.

Gov. Pennypacker has reappointed Thomas Lynch Montgomery state librarian. This action will have the heartiest indorsement of every citizen of the commonwealth who knows anything about the library. For many years it was a dead and alive affair, with no originality in its management, and treated with indifference by the legislature and the public. It has been rescued from this condition. In the three years of his service Mr. Montgomery has brought about many desirable changes, and as soon as additional room, now greatly needed, can be had, there will be many more. Mr. Montgomery has not only the right ability and the experience, but he has the progressive spirit and enthusiasm so requisite to public usefulness. The governor never made a better appointment.—Philadelphia Press.

When They Will Suffer Eclipse.

It is argued that, on account of the low freight rate on grain from western Canada to Boston, a 160-acre farm in that part of the dominion is worth $800 more than one of corresponding size on the American side of the border. But when the Mississippi river is properly improved the Canadian railroads will suffer an eclipse in carrying crops to the sea.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Looking for Halcyon Days.

Up in Schuylkill county they are making calculations that the bounty of the commonwealth will soon provide money enough to enable them to do away with pretty much all local taxation. What a halcyon time that will be when it comes tripping along!—New Castle Herald.

NATURE: THE ARTIST.

Such hints as untaught nature yields—
The calm disorder of the sea,
The struggling splendor of the fields,
The wind's gay incivility.

O workman with your conscious plan,
Compass and square are little worth;
Copy (nay; only poets can)
The artless masonry of earth.

Go watch the windy spring's carouse,
And mark the winter wonders grow—
The graceful gracefulness of boughs,
The careless carpentry of snow.

CONTROL OF SALE OF KEROSENE IN INDIA

Russia Has the Market for Low-Grade Oils and America the Higher Grades.

United States Consul Fee, of Bombay, writing on the illuminating oil trade for that part of India, says that "of the 22,...,000 gallons of kerosene oil imported into Bombay during the year 1904-5 Russia was credited with over 17,000,000, valued at nearly two million dollars gold. She has never been able to meet the competition of America in the higher grades of oils, but for some years has substantially controlled the market in India for low-grade and low-priced oils. Other oils have lately come into the Indian markets that are proving themselves strong competitors of the Russian oils in low grades as well as in cheapness. Dutch Borneo has within three years increased her exports of kerosene to Bombay from 500,000 to 3,500,000 gallons. The fusion of the interests of Shell Transportation and Royal Dutch companies in the combination known as the Asiatic Petroleum Company has resulted in the development of the oil fields both of Borneo and Java. Burma oil shows a wonderful advance, and the first shipment of its oil to Bombay was recorded last year. Burma, being politically a part of British India, imports its oil into Bombay free of duty, and while the effect of this new and undeveloped factor can scarcely be gauged as yet, this must undoubtedly be the principal cause of the decline of prices in kerosene.

Russian Disadvantage.

"The Standard Oil Company has lately been giving its attention to the importation of Russian oil. It is thought that with the aid of her advanced methods of refining, her system of bulk transportation and installations, she will be able to successfully meet the competition of both Borneo and Burma in the kerosene markets of India. The Russian oil imported into India is produced near Baku, on the western shore of the Caspian sea. From there it is carried across Trans-Caucasia, a distance of some 500 miles, by railroad by way of Tiflis, to the port of Batoum on the Black sea in tank cars holding 10 tons each, after the manner of those used in the Pennsylvania oil fields over thirty years ago. The cost of railway freight is $6.50 a ton, the cars having to return empty, causing serious impediment to railway traffic. The oil is then loaded on steamers, which transport it across the Black sea, through the Bosphorus and Dardanelles down the Aegean sea, across the Mediterranean through the Suez canal, through the Red sea and the Arabian sea to Bombay, some 6,000 miles, although Bombay is only about 2,000 miles in a straight line from Baku. However, something is being done to lessen costs of transportation.

Saving of Pipe Line.

"A pipe line to unite the oil wells at Baku with the port of Batoum has been completed and will not fail to have a most important and far-reaching effect on the industry of Russian oil. The length of the line is 570 miles. It crosses the watershed of the province and will carry crude oil from Baku to be distilled and shipped at Batoum. At intervals along the length of the line are large tanks and pumping stations which provide the power to propel the oil through the pipes. The line supplies its own fuel and the tanks enable the oil to accumulate in case of accident or necessary alteration on any part of the pipes. The total capacity of the tanks and pipes of the line is roughly 112,507 tons, and the cost of installation is said to be $4,000,000. Much of the distillation and manipulation of the oil will now take place at Batoum. The saving in freight by pipe line is estimated to be equal to one-half of the old car freight, and this fact will doubtless be made use of in competition in the oil markets of India. The increase of exports is estimated to amount to over one-half million of tons per year and a lessening of costs of oil about 2 cents a gallon by reason of the new pipe line transportation."

The Language of Ignorance.

Bishop H. P. Turner, colored, does his race and himself a bad turn in denouncing the American flag as "a dirty and contemptible rag." He should go to school to Booker T. Washington a decade or so, for he would then know more about the banner he despises.—New York Tribune.

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

Notes About People and Events in Which Pittsburghers Are Interested.

The incident was in no manner unusual in itself, but is worthy of mention because it unconsciously revealed the guilty conscience of one who witnessed it. A young woman, apparently of the theatrical profession, fumbled in her chatelaine in an effort to extract the amount called for by the man at the Pullman window at Union station last night. The Cincinnati train was due to leave in three minutes, and this did not tend to increase the young woman's composure. In her confusion a small bottle, presumably perfume, dropped to the marble floor and smashed. A stout drummer standing nearby, startled at the crash of glass on the stones, instinctively slapped his coat with his hard right over the side pocket. "Well, it's not mine," he remarked with a look of relief. And others nearby laughed.

Confusions Result from New Schedule.

The new schedule announced some time ago by the Pennsylvania was inaugurated yesterday, and some radical changes in the running time of several popular trains went into effect. Such a revolution of affairs caused no end of confusion, both among railroad employes and the traveling public. There were perhaps more people in Union station last night who missed trains than since the last seashore excursion. Apparently the new order of things had not been as widely advertised as such a change should be, and the expressions of disgust that echoed about the waiting room and train sheds, if printed, would fill a big volume. The station attaches seemed to share in the consequent disorder, and if asked hurriedly the time of some train would hesitate, and frequently make mistakes. Then there were more explanations from the gatemen before the prospective passenger finally felt convinced he was all wrong. Many a man turned toward Liberty street and faced the snow storm with a face that manifested about as much joy in life as the visage of a night clerk in a Raines law hotel.

Thinks Strike May Be Averted.

M. W. Mounds, a prominent coal operator of Easton, Pa., registered at the Monongahela house last night, and when asked about the possibility of a strike among the miners in the hard coal region, said:

"Things look serious in the eastern part of the state just now, but I am hopeful some agreement can be reached. The miners and operators foresaw the prospect of a strike almost a year ago, and both sides prepared for it. This would mean a long, bitter struggle that would entail great suffering. The miners realize just as well as the operators what a strike means at this time, and I feel convinced that they will take wise counsel before deciding to go out. Past strikes have demonstrated to the miner that he suffers more keenly than the operator. This phase of the situation has its influence in tempering all arguments regarding a strike. And, more than this, I think John Mitchell, the president of the miners' organization, is too far-seeing to plunge rashly into a conflict with the coal operators. We have six weeks yet in which to come to some settlement, and, although I am not intimating the nature of possible concessions that may be made by either side, I am still sanguine that the threatened strike can be averted. But it looks serious just now."

Thousands of Miles in Dog Sleds.

Mrs. Grace Brumbaugh, wife of Raymond Brumbaugh of Fairbanks, Alaska, registered last night at the Anderson. Mr. Brumbaugh, who is in Columbus, will arrive in this city tonight or tomorrow and will proceed with his wife to their home in New York. In the past 10 weeks the two have covered thousands of miles on dog sleds, steamer and trains, and made one of the most remarkable trips in which a woman ever had part. When asked to talk of her trip, Mrs. Brumbaugh said last night:

"We left Fairbanks, Alaska, on December 3, my husband and I, two other men from the states, and our drivers, or "mushers," as they are called. Our sleds were drawn by dogs, and as we started in the dead of an arctic winter the trail was hard to follow. Several times we got lost on the ice and once we were lost in a northern blizzard for 40 hours. We learned after the blizzard ceased that the next relief station was less than 2 miles away. That time we suffered severely and I shall certainly never forget that experience. It took us 20 days to cover the 400 miles from Fairbanks to Valdez, on the coast, and during that time the temperature ranged from 20 to 60 below zero. In the summer months the trip can be made on the Yukon river, but during the winter the only way out of the country is by way of the ice trail, with dogs to drag your sleds and provisions."

Mr. Brumbaugh is a mining engineer of New York, who is part owner of some valuable mines in the Yukon country. For several years past he and his wife have lived in the Alaskan city. Mrs. Brumbaugh is a dainty little woman and appears not robust enough to endure the hardships of a frigid climate, yet she declares she likes the country and is going back with her husband in the spring. Mr. Brumbaugh is in the states on a purchasing expedition.

Working Like Beavers.

Since George W. Beavers pleaded guilty and prepared to join the rest of the post-office grafters in a federal penitentiary, a good many congratulations have been extended to Consul General Wynne. It was he who, as first assistant postmaster general, exposed the postal ring and brought about the prosecutions. Mr. Wynne is in Washington, having returned from London to testify in the postal cases.

"Well," said one of the congratulatory persons, "you have succeeded in putting a good many grafters in the way of some honest work. Look at Machen and Lorenz, for instance, over at the Moundsville penitentiary."

"Yes," said Wynne, "they are working—working like Beavers."—New York Times.

"Well, you're a funny chap," said the farmer, laughing heartily. "Have you any children?"

"What's he?"

"Yes, a second called Max."

"Isn't he an emperor?"

"Yes, he is also an emperor."

Why He Wanted a Desk.

"Some time ago a number of white friends of Quanah Parker, a noted chief of the Comanches, living in Oklahoma, gave the old fellow a comfortable home," said Judge J. H. Shepherd of the Indian Territory. "In addition, the donors furnished the residence very snugly, but when the presentation was made, fearing some article might have been omitted, he was asked if there was any piece of furniture lacking which he might desire. To this Quanah gave an affirmative grunt and signified that it would please him mightily to have a good writing desk.

"'Why, Quanah, what do you want with a desk?' said one. 'You never learned how to write.'

"'That's so,' responded the old chief, 'but I been to Washington, and see how they do up there in the big government buildings. I want to do the same way—put my feet up on the desk, smoke a cigar, and when a white man comes to see me, puff it in his face and tell him to go away, because this is my busy day.'"—Washington Post.

Wasn't Her Boy.

"I shall have to ask you for a ticket for that boy, ma'am," insisted a conductor, speaking to a quiet looking little woman seated beside a boy on a Pennsylvania train.

"I guess not," she replied with decision. "He's too old to travel free. He occupies a whole seat, and the car's crowded. There are people standing."

"I've never paid for him yet," the woman retorted.

"You've got to begin some time," persisted the conductor.

"Not this trip, anyway."

"You'll pay for that boy, ma'am, or I'll stop the train and put him off."

"All right, put him off if you think that's the way to get anything out of me."

"You ought to know what the rules of this road are, ma'am. How old is that boy?"

Lincoln and Boone.

"You sometimes cannot always tell," remarked H. M. McCartney of the Western Pacific engineering department. "The people from whom you are prepared to expect the most are frequently deficient and disappointing. I met a lady from Kentucky some time ago. She was a school teacher. We chatted on various topics, and, among other things, she asked me:

"'Whom do you consider the greatest man Kentucky ever produced?'

"'There can't be any dispute about that,' I replied. 'Abraham Lincoln.'

"'Aren't you mistaken?' she said. 'Lincoln, you know, came from Illinois.'

"'Well,' I said, in an excess of gallantry, 'if that is your understanding, we will let it go at that.'

"'What state do you come from, Mr. McCarthy?' she asked.

"'Pennsylvania,' I replied.

"'And whom do you consider the greatest man that ever came from Pennsylvania?' she continued.

"'Daniel Boone,' I told her.

"'Daniel Boone? And who was he?'

"'Well,' I informed her, 'among other things, he discovered and settled up the state of Kentucky.'

"'And she was a school teacher. And from Kentucky."—San Francisco Herald.

Demanded a Correction.

Some months ago, in chronicling the killing of a man in one of the mines around Butte, a local paper remarked that he had two cousins in the camp. Next day, within a few hours after the paper was delivered to subscribers, a delegation of 11 appeared in the office of the paper and indignantly demanded that the story be printed all over again, and printed right.

"What's wrong about it?"

"Why, you said he had two cousins. We are all cousins of his. Count us."—Anaconda Standard.

Not Likely to Invalidate It.

It was to have been expected that some one would spring a question of constitutionality on some of the extra session legislation. It has been already pointed out that the provision in the primary election act closing the saloons while the primaries are in progress is not mentioned in the title. This is perfectly awful, of course, but it is hardly likely to invalidate the law.—Philadelphia Press.

Trade Relations With Spain.

Last year the United States sold to Spain goods worth $17,000,000 and purchased $8,000,000 worth, the largest total of trade we have ever had with that country. It is gratifying to find the business relations of the two nations moving peacefully and profitably.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"The fellow the police said 'died like a horse?' Yes."

"I have a theory about that."

REPUBLICANS CLAIM VICTORY IN ALLEGHENY

HOW TO FIGURE EARLY RETURNS

CITY HAS THREE MORE WARDS

Tomorrow evening everybody in Pittsburgh will be anxious to know the result of the mayoralty election. Early returns on election nights come in slowly before midnight and are scattering. It is often possible to get a fair idea of the result by taking a dozen or 20 returns from widely scattered districts, and comparing them with the returns in the same districts at the previous mayoralty election. If these districts show a proportionate gain or loss, it is fairly safe to assume that nearly all the others will make the same showing. In the Haymaker-Hays election, in 1903, there were 38 wards with 231 voting districts. Since that time three new wards have been added to the city, and some allowance must be made for them.

BOTH SIDES FULL OF CONFIDENCE

Kirschler and Logan Cohorts in Allegheny Are Making Claims of Victory.

WOMEN ARE PLAYING A PART

Eight brass bands will parade the streets of Allegheny tomorrow in order to maintain the Logan brand of enthusiasm at the highest pitch, but the Republicans claim Kirschler will be elected by 5,000 or more majority, and the betting favors him 3 to 1. Sheriff James W. Dickson made the above prediction yesterday afternoon.

The Good Government party, through Dr. S. S. Woodburn, claims 5,000 majority for their ticket. Until yesterday the Good Government party claimed to have a "look in" in the Fourth ward, but they have now abandoned that hope. John W. Robinson is a select councilman from the Fourth ward, and he and his brother are credited with having said the ward will not give Mr. Kirschler more than 800 majority.

The Good Government people claim Kirschler will have to come west of Federal street from "Dutchtown" with 7,500 majority to win the fight. The Kirschler clansmen laugh at the claim and say positively they will not lose a ward in Allegheny. Sheriff Dickson also makes this statement.

An interesting battle ground is the Fifth ward, the home of both candidates. Both parties claim the ward, but the Republicans say there is nothing to it but 300 majority for their candidate. The Logan supporters do not name their figures. Some years ago Mr. Logan was defeated for school director in his ward.

Big Fight In Second Ward.

The real betting and conjecturing in the Allegheny fight is on the outcome in the Second ward, the biggest in the city. There Francis J. Torrance lives, and the Good Government party is making a personal fight on Mr. Torrance. Yesterday, in a statement the Good Government press bureau claimed the Second ward by 1,000 majority. The Republicans admitted the fight was close, but claim they will carry it by a small majority.

There are many factions in the Eighth ward. It is the home and local stamping ground of the National Creation society and there are only two districts in the ward. Representative George J. Schad is credited with being able to turn the ward and the Republicans claim the river front ward by 250 majority.

Yesterday both candidates, Kirschler and Logan, were busy. They were not at their homes, and the other members of their families did not know when they would be. There was a constant stream of callers at Mr. Kirschler's home, but his wife told them "Charley" was out, and they understood. Mr. Logan was also busy, but nothing could be learned of his whereabouts.

There is a possibility some of the stores in Allegheny will close on election day. The Good Government party managers asked the concession from the merchants so the employes could vote. The women who have fought so valiantly for the Good Government interests will do good work in a quiet way on election day. From 10 o'clock in the morning until late in the afternoon they will hold prayer meetings for the success of the Good Government candidate, and all day will serve coffee and sandwiches. The quick lunch will not be confined to Good Government watchers and workers.

Here is a summing up of the situation given out by both sides. The Republicans state their majorities in most cases.

How the Leaders Size It Up.

First ward—Republican majority, 350; Good Government, non-committal.

Second ward—Good Government claims it by 1,000 or more; Republicans say it will be close.

Third ward—Claimed for Mr. Kirschler by 500 majority. The Good Government party concedes the ward.

Fourth ward—According to City Treasurer Robinson's statement, the Republicans may carry the ward by 1,000 majority.

Fifth ward—Home of both candidates. Both parties say they have the ward by a slight majority; Republicans, by 200.

Sixth ward—Situation of Enterprise National bank. Both parties claim it by 500 votes. Republicans willing to wager on the outcome.

Seventh ward—Said to be a strong Kirschler stronghold, and Republicans claim it by 400. The Good Government party says it will be close.

Eighth ward—Good Government party fighting hard, but Republicans claim it by 250.

The Ninth ward is the Democratic stronghold in Allegheny, and, as Mr. Kirschler has the indorsement, he claims it by at least 550.

Tenth ward—Known as "church" ward, and Good Government party say they will get it big. Republicans say they will have a slight majority.

The Eleventh ward is the home of Former Judge Elliott Rodgers, Deputy Sheriff S. J. Grenet and Robert McAfee, secretary of the commonwealth. Republicans claim it by 200. It is one of the wards west of Federal street.

Twelfth ward—Is known as a strong Republican "Dutchtown ward." Select Councilman Morris Einstein has never lost it, and claims it this time for Mr. Kirschler by 700 majority.

Detective T. C. Johnston says the Thirteenth ward will give Republican majority of 450. The Good Government party claims they will cut down all "Dutchtown" majorities.

Both parties are struggling in the Fourteenth ward. The Fifteenth ward is in the Republican doubtful column, but the friends of Mr. Logan claim it by a big majority.

Cheap Way to Get Potatoes.

William Sullivan of Twentieth street was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of stealing potatoes from the produce yards at Twentieth street.

JENKINSON WILL HAVE COUNCILS

Republicans Will Get Majority of Select to Confirm Mayor's Appointments.

BIGELOW SEEKING CONTROL

When A. M. Jenkinson is sworn in as mayor of Pittsburgh on the first Monday of April he will have a select council that will confirm the appointments he will make of members of his cabinet for three years and a body that will be in full accord with his administration. In the common council the new mayor will also have a body that will be as fully harmonious with him as the upper branch.

Both branches will be Republican by substantial majorities. This is assured by reports from every ward. While Director Bigelow is striving his utmost to elect enough of his own personal followers to select and to have something to say concerning the mayor's appointments, the indications are the Republicans will have a clear majority over all opposition.

There are 16 members of select council holding over until 1908, and of this number at least 10, and probably a dozen, can be counted upon to support the policies of Mayor Jenkinson. In addition to the 16 holdovers, there will be 24 members elected tomorrow and the least the Republicans can do is to elect half of that number, with the chance of electing more than a majority of them, which would give the administration control of the upper branch by a safe working majority.

Bigelow Has Personal Candidates.

Six members of the present common council are seeking promotion to the select branch, four of whom are Bigelow men. The four aldermen are J. J. Hughes of the Fifth ward, Richard McNally of the Thirteenth, John Taylor of the Twenty-first and Andrew Pfannkuch of the Thirty-eighth. Two Republican common councilmen, C. C. Kohne of the Twenty-third ward and John Lewis of the Twenty-eighth ward, are also candidates for select council. Kohne and Lewis are certain of winning, but the chances of McNally, Taylor and Pfannkuch are extremely doubtful. Hughes has no opposition.

There are eight Bigelow select councilmen who are candidates for re-election: Edwards of the Second ward, E. A. Sweeney of the Ninth, P. B. Kearns of the Tenth, John Upperman of the Fifteenth, J. H. Schlernitzauer of the Twenty-fourth, W. E. Lang of the Thirty-first, John Hogue of the Thirty-fourth and Thomas A. Hawkins of the Thirty-ninth ward. Besides the Bigelow common councilmen seeking promotion and the Bigelow selectmen who are standing for re-election, Director Bigelow has a personal candidate in almost every other ward that will elect.

Tapping Barrel In Nineteenth.

In the Nineteenth ward, where the director of public works resides, D. P. Reighard, a lifelong Democrat, is the personally chosen candidate of Mr. Bigelow, and is opposed by C. D. Tillbury, the candidate of the Republicans and Independents. A hot campaign is being waged in this ward, Mr. Bigelow having announced a couple of weeks ago that he was going to tap a barrel to get votes for his ticket.

In the Twenty-second ward Mr. Bigelow is supporting W. B. Wolfe, a former orphan. Supporting Mr. Wolfe also is President J. S. Wightman of select council, a Bigelow man, although Wightman and Wolfe were formerly bitter political enemies. Mr. Wolfe, at the outset of the campaign, declared he would not be a candidate for select council, and warmly indorsed the Republican nominee, William Metcalf, Jr. Much to the surprise of even his own friends, Wolfe shortly afterward announced himself as the fusion candidate against Metcalf.

There is no hotter council fight in the city than that being waged against W. H. Stevenson in the Fourteenth ward, by Director Bigelow, who has declared that Mr. Stevenson will not be returned to council.

In the Thirty-first ward Dr. C. C. Williams, a prominent and popular Republican, is opposed by W. E. Lang, the Bigelow candidate for re-election. Lang has always been a devoted servant of Director Bigelow.

In the Thirty-fifth ward Supt. Andrew Burk of Bigelow's department is supporting the Republican nominees for council, because the Citizens ward leaders made a deal to deprive Burke's district of a representative in councils. This deal was made by two Citizens members of the present school board, one agreeing to support the other for select council if the latter, in turn, would re-elect him to the central board of education. John Costello, a Bigelow select councilman, who is retiring, is supporting the Citizens party nominees because Costello wants to run for the state legislature in the fall on the Citizens ticket.

The Fortieth ward will elect its first select councilman, and he will be a Republican.

FATE IS AGAINST GUTHRIE

promises to obtain the support of Independent Republicans, even to the extent of advertising Guthrie on posters and banners throughout the city as a Republican candidate. The name and picture of Guthrie on the large banner stretched across Fifth avenue, labeled the Republican candidate, with the names of the Democratic party omitted from the banner, is a sample of the means employed by Guthrie's campaign managers to have the people forget that he is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat.

This apparent repudiation by Guthrie of his democracy and the appeal by himself and his campaign orators for Republican support has proved a boomerang for him in Democratic strongholds without getting him any Republican votes. From many wards come news of Democratic workers turning their backs on Guthrie and working for the election of Jenkinson. This is noticeable in more than half a dozen wards of the South Side. In the Thirty-fourth ward John Hogue, the Democratic candidate for select council, is working for Jenkinson, although this requires the splitting of every vote that is cast for himself. The same thing is said to be going on in other wards which are considered Democratic strongholds.

Jenkinson's winning personality and his ability as a campaigner, with his opponent's frigid demeanor and declaration that he will not, and has not, asked a man to vote for him, are factors in the contest that are making votes for the Republican candidate. Guthrie, in his Oakland speech Saturday night, declared that he had asked no man for his vote, and did not want the support of any man who might later ask him for a favor. These things are not drawing votes to him, and are far from endearing him with the city payroll which Director Harry Moore is trying to whip into line for the Democratic candidate.

Director Moore is now finding himself high and dry. The policemen are being advised by Superintendent Werner to remain neutral in the fight. The policemen and the firemen are now convinced that Director Moore is acting wholly upon his own responsibility in giving orders, and that his whole aim is to keep himself in office. Guthrie stated in the closing speech of his campaign Saturday night that he had not promised a job to any man, but the activity of Director Moore does not confirm this statement. Director Moore is incensed at Supt. Werner, but Werner, besides telling the police force to support whom they please, is himself supporting the whole Republican ticket in the Thirty-eighth ward, where he resides.

The revolt of the city payroll against Guthrie is particularly pronounced in the departments outside of public safety and charities. There some of the best workers in the Citizens party organization have refused to take orders, and are openly and actively laboring for Jenkinson. Andrew Burk, superintendent of the bureau of construction, is spending his time and money to elect the entire Republican ticket in the Thirty-fifth ward.

Charles A. Finley and John A. Long are working for the Bigelow council ticket in the Twenty-first ward, but are urging their organization to vote for Jenkinson. Director James W. Clark is one of the Guthrie campaign managers, and the Civic party leaders say that Clark has received positive assurances that he will be retained at the head of the charities department. Clark, however, has a small department, and few on his payroll, and besides, is having troubles of his own in the Twentieth ward, where he commands the Citizens organization.

The silence of Controller Larkin is another evidence of the apathy that prevails in the Guthrie ranks. The controller boomed Mr. Guthrie for the Democratic nomination, and since then has not been heard from, although he has found time to write columns for the newspapers in regard to the annual appropriation and tax levy bills. The reason for Mr. Larkin's silence, advanced by his friends, is that he is ambitious to succeed himself as controller, and, knowing that the next time he must submit his candidacy to a Greater Pittsburgh essentially Republican, he does not wish to antagonize Republican sentiment by advocating from the housetops the election of a radical Democrat for mayor.

JENKINSON ADDRESSES TWO HEBREW MEETINGS

Republican Candidate Speaks to Large Audiences — Judge Cohen Aids the Cause.

Two large Hebrew meetings were held yesterday, both of which were addressed by A. M. Jenkinson, the Republican candidate for mayor. A thousand Hebrews from the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth wards assembled last night in Licht's hall, 806 Fifth avenue, and listened to speeches by Mr. Jenkinson, Congressman Barchfeld, Perry A. Shaner, former Judge Josiah Cohen and Jesse Bluestone. Councilman Samuel Frankel presided.

The Twelfth Ward Hebrew Political club met yesterday afternoon at its club house in Penn avenue. Over 250 members of the club were present. J. M. Moskowitz called the meeting to order and introduced George Plato as chairman. The meeting was addressed by A. M. Jenkinson, E. G. Schwazwaelder, Harry Baker, Alderman A. G. Sharra, Charles P. Speer, John F. Schlott, J. M. Moskowitz, J. Plato and J. Rany. A resolution indorsing the Republican city and ward ticket was adopted.

BATTLE OF WETS AND DRYS.

Lively Anti-Saloon Campaign Being Waged in Wilmerding, Wells and East McKeesport.

The temperance people of North Versailles township, which by a special act of legislature in 1872 has the right to a triennial vote on the saloon question, are closing a hot campaign. The original territory covered by the special enactment has been subdivided, so that it now embraces the boroughs of Wilmerding, Wells and East McKeesport, with a population of more than 10,000. Never since the law was passed has the township been dry, and this fact makes the "wets" feel confident. In the fight to abolish the saloons the "drys" are using posters, dodgers, cartoons and lead pencils bearing the legend: "The saloon must go." Children of the township wear tags bearing the words: "Save me from the saloon by voting against license on February 20."

Nightly meetings have been held. In the Young Men's Christian association auditorium last night Homer L. Castle of Pittsburgh addressed an audience of 500. The temperance campaign will close tonight with a meeting at the Young Men's Christian association when Prof. John A. Scanlon will speak.

At the election three years ago there were 22 more "wet" votes cast in the Second ward of Wilmerding than there were voters. This time the regular ballot will be used, decreasing the danger of ballot-box stuffing.

WILL OVERTHROW CASTRO.

M. Taigny Declares That a Formidable Revolution Is Brewing in Venezuela.

PARIS, Feb. 18.—M. Taigny, the former French charge d'affairs at Caracas, in an interview with the Matin's correspondent at Liverpool, said that the unanimity of the diplomats in Venezuela against his expulsion was a great surprise to President Castro who, until the last moment, had relied on the moral support of a certain power.

M. Taigny, according to the correspondent, is convinced that a revolutionary movement for the overthrow of President Castro is in preparation. He had been approached by several of the revolutionary leaders during his sojourn in Venezuela, but, owing to his position as the representative of France, he was obliged to hold aloof from politics. In M. Taigny's opinion, the correspondent adds, a revolution would clear up the present awkward situation in Venezuela.

Mrs. Florence was aged 75. Her maiden name was Anna Theresa Pray, but she had been twice married when she met Florence at the height of his career. Mrs. Florence, herself an actress, became a member of her husband's company.

Orders Woman's Death Investigated.

The woman's body showed marks of abuse, and Coroner Wade of Beaver county has ordered a post-mortem examination to be held Monday.

Columbus Dry First Time in 16 Years.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 18.—Mayor Badger's order to close the saloons in Columbus on Sunday was strictly enforced today, and the city was "dry" for the first time in 16 years. Not a single arrest was made for violation of the closing order. The saloons just outside the city limits were open and people flocked to them from the city.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

What Many of Us Are Doing Three Times a Day.

For everything we get something is taken away. Every act pulls two ways. Some men in power dole out their souls for it. They can't have soul and power at the same time.

And so, in this quick-living age, most of us can't have energy and health at the same time. One or the other must be lost, and it is usually health.

We know we are doing wrong and would like to reform, but we have a morbid fear of being laughed at if we aim to live and eat according to conscience and good sense.

Some of us break away for a while and enslave ourselves to a diet. We read about the hardy Scotsman being fed on porridge and oatcake, making soldiers of muscle and dash, and how Caesar's army was fed on corn. But the diet doesn't last long. We quickly swing back into the great line, eating and drinking to fulness like the rest, eating anything and everything, at any time, and any way we find it. We say "What is a stomach for if it isn't to obey the palate."

But there is really no one rule applicable to everybody's stomach. What one man may eat another may not.

But the dyspeptic should remember that the death list has a dark shadow hovering over it with a long bony finger pointing to "died of heart disease." Physicians will tell us that there are few cases of heart disease that do not come from a stomach derangement.

At every meal we may be brewing for ourselves a terrible case of dyspepsia. It may come upon us after breakfast tomorrow morning, or after that oyster supper tomorrow night.

Acute indigestion means that you have even chances for death or life. That's the gamble you are taking. That precious gastric juice decides, as a rule, whether you continue to live or not.

Therefore, if you feel your food lies like a "lump of lead" on your stomach, beware! Your gastric juice is weak. It can't dispose of the food in time to prevent fermentation. Take something that will do it effectively, and at once. Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most powerful tablets in the world for the relief of all kinds of stomach trouble, nausea, indigestion, the worst cases of dyspepsia, fermentation, bloaty feeling, sourness, heartburn and brash.

One grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. Your stomach needs a rest at once. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach of more than two-thirds of the work it has to do, digesting perfectly whatever food there is in your stomach.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a rest, so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. You can get these tablets anywhere for 50 cents a package.

WEATHER KEEPS CROWDS AT HOME

No Large Numbers Visit the Flowers and Animals in the Big City Parks.

INDIAN PICTURE EXHIBIT

Atmosphere and roads—these are conditions that in a large measure determine the size of the crowds in the city parks on Sunday. Accordingly, in consideration of yesterday's climatic inclemency and sloppiness under foot, there were few persons to be seen along the driveways of Highland and Schenley, and those who ventured to these places of broad wind sweeps were of the kind that in the past must have been the world's pathfinders, for the places of greatest attraction—the conservatories in Schenley, and the zoo in Highland—are situated at points of some distance from the trolley lines. To slosh through the oozy stretches between street cars and either of the places mentioned is no pleasant exercise, especially when the air is raw and the wind gets under the collar and creates shivers along the spine.

Of course there are always some who spend part of the first day of the week in the parks, but such usually are young and go in pairs. Those slowly strolled through the aisles of the conservatories, gazing with more or less interest upon the caged animals at the zoo, or manifesting their artistic tastes in the art galleries or the music hall. There were others out in traps and automobiles, but they did not appear to be getting much real enjoyment, and those especially who were in open touring cars looked rather chilled, for the wind in both parks was keen.

Trip to the Tropics.

In the big greenhouses the almost tropical temperature was very comfortable after the pedestrianism necessary to get there and this, with the floral attractions, caused the crowd to linger there. The begonia houses are still beautiful, although the blooms, now several weeks old, are beginning to take on a slightly faded appearance. This is practically the last week of these flowers. Fresh from their nursing and in the flush of early bloom the, several hundred cyclomens, in a house devoted entirely to their genus, presented the prettiest ensemble of colors in the entire conservatory. For weeks the men under Superintendent Burke have carefully cultivated them and the vari-colored plants were at their best yesterday.

All the species of Holland bulbs that make the Easter display are getting close attention just now. Because of the unusually mild winter some of the plants that are regarded as belonging exclusively to the Easter season will mature before schedule time. In place of the efforts to rush growth, in some of the plant houses the aim this winter has been to retard development, so that the annual Easter display will be of a magnitude comparable to that of past years. But periods of balmy weather this winter have started life early in many of the bulbs and some of these flowers that were to have been exhibits at Easter will show their colors prematurely.

Flower Show in Lent.

This is true especially of the cinerarias. Instead of waiting for Easter they are showing signs of early opening and, according to the conservatory attaches, will be a display of themselves at least two weeks before the end of Lent. This is not in accord with the wishes of Superintendent Burke, but rather in obedience to the dictates of nature. Preparations will be made to have a cineraria show in the latter part of March or early in April.

Superintendent Burke is planning to have mounted the two big cannon that for two years past have lain neglected at the approach of the bridge between the library and the conservatory. The guns were part of the equipment of the old arsenal and were obtained for the city when that military station was dismantled. The ordinance department at Washington will be asked for diagrams of the mountings, and when these are secured an order for the construction of the carriages will be placed with a local factory.

The week just past was a record-breaker in so far as crowds at the lakes were concerned. The ice at Panther hollow and Carnegie lakes was unusually fine and thousands took advantage of the novelty of outdoor skating.

What is said to be the most valuable collection of western Indian pictures in the world was placed on display at the Carnegie art galleries last night by M. W. Phillips and E. S. Curtis of Seattle, Wash. There are several hundred of them and they will be on exhibition for two weeks. Mr. Curtis commenced almost a decade ago the work of photographing Indian life as it exists upon the big reservations throughout the west and from doing this as a pleasant avocation turned to it as a life work. His success has gained him mention in many magazines and his stories of Indian life and customs have been read throughout America.

An audience of several hundred attended the organ recital in the big music hall. Such devotion to art does not require the nasty walking entailed by a visit to the other park attractions, so the crowd in the music hall was as large as usual. W. K. Steiner, the Pittsburgh organist, presided and rendered a program of numbers distinctly classical.

URGES USE OF BALLOT.

Dr. Warren G. Partridge Makes a Plea to the Voters.

"The Perfect Law of Liberty" was the subject of a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge from the pulpit of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church last evening. Dr. Partridge made a plea for honest government and public supervision of public officials. He denounced corrupt political methods and the sale and purchase of votes.

"Good men," he declared, "have been too busy making money to give attention to municipal government," and concluded by pleading that every man serve his country by using the ballot.

DEMOCRATIC MISREPRESENTATION

Labor Leaders Give Correct Statement As to Jenkinson Indorsement.

State of Pennsylvania, County of Allegheny:—On this 17th day of February, 1906, personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority, W. J. Burke, chairman; John Fernau, vice chairman, and Joseph A. McDonald, secretary, of the United Labor Political Association of Western Pennsylvania, who, being sworn according to law, do depose and say, that as officers of the above-named association, they caused to be published in the daily papers of Pittsburgh a resolution indorsing A. M. Jenkinson and Charles F. Kirschler, Republican candidates for mayor of Pittsburgh and Allegheny respectively; that said resolution was adopted unanimously by said association, the members of which are union men; that after its adoption said resolution was turned over to the press committee for publication; that the signatures attached were turned over by the committeemen and were not forged, as the Pittsburgh Post falsely charges. And deponents further say that there was no attempt on their part to convey the impression that the resolution was the act of any other organization than the United Labor Political association; and that the only attempt made to mislead organized labor was on the part of opposition newspapers.

MANY MEET WITH VIOLENT DEATHS

New York Has One of the Most Bloody Sundays in the History of the Greater City.

A PANIC IN THE SUBWAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Nine violent deaths, with a long chapter of minor accidents and shooting affrays, some of which may result fatally, constituted the unusual Sunday report submitted to headquarters today by the police of New York and Brooklyn.

A street murder in the Italian quarter heads the list. There were three cases of suicide, all in Manhattan; one man was ground to death under the wheels of an express train in the subway, a woman was burned to death in Greenwich street, another woman was accidently killed by inhaling illuminating gas in a West street hotel, while the man who had accompanied her to the place was found in a critical condition; a man was killed by escaping gas in Brooklyn, and the body of a young man was found in a canal in South Brooklyn.

Three women overcome by gas in a tenement in West Forty-third street were taken to a hospital and will recover. Two soldiers, one a sergeant and the other a corporal of artillery from Fort Totten, were overcome in a Second avenue hotel, where they spent last night, and are in a critical condition at a hospital. Brooklyn added two more cases of gas poisoning, neither of which, however, is expected to result fatally.

The murdered man was Michael Chiarcello, who was attacked with a stiletto, the police declare, by Vincenzo Vintinigilio, who had long been his friend. The assailant escaped. The men had been drinking and quarreled.

The man killed in the subway was Antonio Rossi, aged 24, a track walker. He was not missed till tonight, when a search for him was instituted and parts of his body were found along the express train tracks. Killed instantly by the first train which struck him, Rossi's body had been dismembered by a score of heavy express trains which had passed over the tracks.

When men carrying parts of the body arrived at the Fourteenth street station there was something of a panic on the crowded platform. Several women fainted. A report quickly spread that a serious accident had occurred and several hundred persons poured into the subway. Police reserves had to be called from two stations before the place could be cleared.

One of the suicides was Jeannette Kaolan, a pretty Russian girl, aged 22, who had been taking a course as a trained nurse at Beth Israel hosopital. She had been despondent for some time, and had confided to a girl friend that she was tired of life, but lacked the courage to commit suicide. Today she was found dead in her room, a note left behind telling the story of her tragic end.

GIRL'S IDENTITY PROVES A PUZZLE

Body Is at the Morgue and She Has Been Identified Under Three Different Names.

VICTIM OF AN OPEN GRATE

A third identification was made yesterday of the body of a young woman at the county morgue, who died at the Homeopathic hospital last Friday from burns sustained a week before at 432 Third avenue. She was known there as Bessie Harris, and so identified by a woman who lived in the house. Last Saturday night, a man who said he knew her, said her name was Bonnie Howard, that she had once been a newspaper woman, and that her home was in Washington, D. C.

Yesterday F. J. Silber, who gave his address as the Colter House, Pitcairn, called at the morgue, and also identified her, saying her name was Ada Blanche Deems, and that her home was in Baltimore. Silber said he had expected to marry her shortly. He did not know her address in Baltimore, because, he said, she refused always to tell him where her parents lived. He called to see her before she died at the hospital, and only then she had told him her home was in Baltimore. Silber said he had been in the United States navy for four years, and had only been discharged on January 27 last. The women who live at the house on Third avenue told the morgue officials they would pay for the woman's burial if nobody else did, but they will await word from Baltimore, as a telegram was sent to the police of that city asking them to try to find the girl's parents.

Charles Eckles, an engineer at the Clairton steel works, died at the McKeesport hospital last night from scalds received yesterday afternoon by the bursting of a steam pipe. He was enveloped in the vapor. He was 29 years old and lived at Blair's station.

Elizabeth Bracken, a widow, aged 83, died at her home, 5249 Gertrude street, early yesterday morning, from injuries received three weeks ago by falling downstairs and fracturing her thigh, while visiting at Braddock.

Hugh Campbell, aged 68, of Natrona, was found asphyxiated on a cinder bank at the plant of the Allegheny Iron & Steel Co., Brackenridge, early yesterday morning. It is presumed he laid down to sleep Saturday night and was suffocated by the gases.

Fortune Gone, Aged Man Dies.

AKRON, O., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The death today of Minor J. Howe, aged 70, formerly a well known capitalist, is said to have been due to the failure three years ago of the Akron Savings bank. Mr. Howe removed to Akron from Cuyahoga Falls, where he made a fortune. He put a large part of his money in the savings bank, which failed soon afterward. Under the double liability law, Howe's remaining wealth was taken, and he died a poor man. Bright's disease is given as the cause of death.

The Death Roll

She was a member of Trinity Episcopal church, Sixth street. Her husband died four years ago. Mrs. Briggs is survived by four children, Mrs. John W. Mr. Thomas Pascoe, Sr., is dead at his former home, No. 715 Washington avenue, Carnegie. He was born in England in 1840, and came to America in 1859, settling near this city. When the civil war broke out he enlisted in one of the regiments of the Army of the Potomac and was a participant in nearly all of the battles. After the close of the war he engaged as mine superintendent with the Mansfield Coal and Coke Company. For the past 15 years he had been employed in the sheriff's office of this county. He was twice chosen to the office of justice of the peace of Carnegie, and was filling that office when he died. He was an active member of Captain Thomas Espy Post No. 152, G. A. R. He is survived by his widow, three sons and three daughters. They are Thomas, Andrew and Charles Pascoe, and Mrs. S. P. Cochran of Kittanning, Pa.; Mrs. Willis McKee of Illyria, O., and Margaret Pascoe, who lived at home. Mr. Pascoe was an active member of the Carnegie Methodist Episcopal church.

William Dala Agnew.

William Dala Agnew, aged 87, died Saturday at his residence, 236 Shady avenue, Allegheny, of pneumonia. He was well known in political circles, being a staunch Republican and for several years a deputy sheriff of Allegheny county. He was a son of the late Alexander Agnew, pioneer settler and ex-magistrate of Washington, Pa. Mr. Agnew is survived by four sons, Henry W. of Ambridge, James A., Jewell; and Richard L. of Beaver; four daughters, Mrs. Harry Wettach of Aspinwall and Mrs. E. P. Breitsneider of Allegheny. He also leaves four brothers, James, Thomas, Alexander and John of Washington, Pa.

Mrs. Amanda Algeo.

Mrs. Amanda Algeo, widow of John Algeo, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James A. Steele, Wood street, Wilkinsburg. She was born in Pittsburgh, and was a daughter of the late Capt. Robert Greenlee, a well-known riverman. Wilkinsburg had been her home for 10 years. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian church of that borough. Three children survive her—Robert Algeo, Chicago; J. M. Algeo, Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Steel. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Elvira Craighead of Beaver Falls.

John McMahon.

John McMahon, aged 76, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John McDonough, 710 Bell avenue, East Carnegie, yesterday afternoon. Mr. McMahon was born in Ireland and has lived in this country for more than 50 years. He has lived in Carnegie and vicinity during the last 20 years. He was a member of the Roman Catholic church of Carnegie, and is survived by the following children: H. McMahon of Pittsburgh, John and Michael McMahon of Chicago, Mrs. P. V. Birmingham of McKees Rocks, and Mrs. John McDonough of Carnegie.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary Parry.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Parry, whose death occurred Saturday evening at her home in West Tenth street, Homestead, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with interment in Homestead cemetery. Mrs. Parry was the wife of William Parry, and had resided in Homestead for five years. She is survived by her husband and three children.

Richard B. Taylor.

Richard B. Taylor died at his home in Butler yesterday. The deceased was born in 1832 and was one of the best-known contractors and oil operators in Western Pennsylvania. TRUST COMPANY RESERVE QUESTION IRRECONCILABLE

Advance in Sixty and Ninety-Day Money Probably Not Influenced by Disagreement of Bank Conference in New York.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—It is much to be regretted, if the report circulated late Saturday proves correct, that the bank and trust company conferees at the Metropolitan club meeting, found their views on the trust company reserve question irreconcilable. It was much to be desired that this important subject, which is probably of greater vital interest to the commercial and financial interests of New York at this time than anything else, should be settled by private conference through mutual concessions, than that it be threshed out in public, or as a result of legislative inquiry or enactment.

It is, of course, impossible to tell whether the advance in 60 and 90-day money to 5% per cent late Saturday, bore any relation to the disagreement of the conference over the question of the trust companies maintaining a cash reserve. Independent of this subject, vital as it is, there was a sufficiency of other causes to serve as an explanation of the increasing stringency, among which was the self-evident liquidation in the stock market itself, the failure of currency to flow back in volume, and, probably more than anything else, the rather hysterical manner in which houses of the first class began bidding for large blocks of money, practically establishing a competition for such meager supplies as remain with local institutions and out-of-town lenders.

But it must be obvious, even to the casual observer, that the local institutions cannot further expand their loans without reinforcing the cash reserves that support the huge mass of demand liabilities reared up against them. It is, of course, elementary that the bulk of the deposits in banks and trust companies are not cash, but credits—mere bookkeeping entries against securities or other evidences of value of a character which it is unnecessary to specify. Yet such credits, when issued against commercial discounts, stocks, whether inflated in value or otherwise or whether really salable at market quotations or not, become liabilities payable upon demand in cash over the counter, or by check or draft through the exchanges.

It was sincerely hoped that the question of maintaining a cash reserve on the part of such trust companies as engage in a banking business pure and simple could be satisfactorily adjusted by conference, chiefly as a means of safeguarding the future, should anything of a disturbing character arise, which might impel many men at once to make unexpected demands for cash upon the financial institutions. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen if any such contingency should arise, and it is devoutly to be hoped that no such disaster may fall upon the community, for against it even the great prosperity of the country would avail little, and it would assuredly suffer injury in time.

The situation, as it now exists among the financial institutions of New York, cannot endure indefinitely. Two classes of institutions, both doing a banking business, are compelled by law or custom, to maintain a cash reserve of 25 per cent, and a privilege of which seven-eighths of them avail themselves literally, cannot run on side by side, without injury to one or the other, or both. The latter is the more likely. The privileges are too nearly similar in some respects, the obligations too widely divergent in others, to give a safe system of banking to the community. Competition is too strong between the two classes for rigid adherence to conservative methods. They must both take chances to keep up in the procession. In this respect there is ground to criticise both.

If this matter of equalizing the responsibilities of banks and trust companies on the question of some percentage of cash reserves in their vaults against active accounts cannot be arranged by mutual agreement, then it will be brought about in another manner, either by legislation at Albany, now when all danger seems remote, or as a result of some bitter experience, which demonstrates to the community how weak the system is that does not provide a proper safeguard against an unforeseen disaster. Twenty-five per cent cash reserve is none too great for the clearing house institutions of New York to maintain, in view of the fact that they hold the reserves of the country. It is altogether inadequate, when against that percentage is added also some portion of the reserves of out of town institutions, and the local trust companies as well, and it is obvious that the proper manner to strengthen this position is to compel trust companies to maintain some percentage of reserve against active accounts. New York cannot bank with safety with 2½ per cent of cash reserve against aggregate deposit liabilities of more than $2,000,000,000.

The speculative security market during the week gave convincing evidence that it was at last coming to its senses. Liquidation, which is a process of adjustment through which is restored something approximating equilibrium between selling price and real value as gauged by interest rates and income yield, continued an almost unbroken course from first to last. United with this, without doubt, was extensive professional short selling. But of the two classes of selling in the market the vending of long stock representing doubtlessly in some instances the marketing of undistributed pool accumulations, was the most influential.

Without genuine selling, whether this be voluntary, or whether it be forced by fear, necessity, or any other consideration, profitable operations for the short account are well-nigh impossible. Unscrupulous bear traders may, to be sure, raid a market on some lying tale or discoloration of facts, but such men are in and out quickly, and as a rule accomplish little. When in the way of depressing prices or obtaining unfair profits. For short selling, to be truly effective, making a permanent impress on prices, not only must be conducive of liquidation, but must be actual liquidation itself. That there was liquidation in the market last week was unmistakable. This was clearly indicated by the failure of speculative prices to hold recoveries, when upon favorable news developments, or upon such occasions, and they were of frequent occurrence, when the short interest set about repurchasing stock to take profits.

BUTLER COUNTY PRODUCES ALL RECENT SENSATIONS

Discoveries of a somewhat sensational nature were made in the southwest and lower southwest fields during the past week. Unconfirmed reports sent out as to the size of at least one of the new strikes had much to do with intensifying the excitement and sent operators skurrying to the center of attraction on the first trains last Thursday morning. The well is on the Christ Steighner farm, south of Coylesville, Butler county. The lease is owned and the well was drilled by Hinchberger and others of Butler. It was drilled into the fourth sand last Wednesday and at five feet in the sand the pay was struck and it made a nice flow. For several hours it flowed about every 30 minutes and during Thursday flowed once in two hours and not with any great regularity. Acording to the reports sent out the well was flowing at the rate of 600 barrels a day. On Wednesday it was agitated for a short time, but the flows were not increased in number or size, and on Friday it was drilled deeper into the sand and the increase in production was very slight. The well is in a new territory, but somewhat remote from any producing wells. It is the opinion of those familiar with the fourth sand in that locality that it will make a 30 or 40-barrel producer and at the end of 30 days will be down to a 20-barrel pumper.

Two weeks ago the Southern Oil Company drilled in a test well on the Smith farm, south of the fourth sand producer, and got a good showing of oil in the third sand. Owing to a lack of gas pressure the well did not flow and was put to pumping. Since then it has been producing 80 barrels a day with great regularity. There is no other producer in the immediate vicinity and the Southern company has a nice block of leases. This company will begin active development work and expects to find more good wells.

Near Oakland, in Oakland township, Butler parties drilled in a test well and struck the pay in the 80-foot. The well started to flow at the rate of 90 barrels a day and is regarded a 40 or 50-barrel well. Taken as a whole, Butler county has been very much in evidence for a week. The best that can be hoped for from any of the new discoveries is to contract pools. The territory in the old banner county has been so thoroughly drilled over that there is no longer room for anything like a new field.

The most important discovery of the week in the lower southwest fields was made by the Southern Oil Company when it drilled in its test on the R. A. Workman farm, on Point Pleasant creek, Ellsworth district, Tyler county. It was drilled into the pay Thursday and Friday was scheduled to be good for 1,000 barrels a day. The oil was developed in the Keener, and the following day it was drilled a little deeper and the production increased to 20 barrels an hour. This is the nearest approach to a gusher in that locality since the old Elk Fork pool was developed. The location of the Southern company's producer is almost a mile south of the development on Middle Island creek and makes it look like a new pool.

The deep sand districts failed to introduce a new feature. The one that escaped the duster list were either light pumpers or gassers. On Long Drain run, Church district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company drilled in a second test on the William N. Teagarden farm into the fourth sand and got a show for a producer. The showing was not nearly so good as the No. 1 on the same farm. The first well is now a month old and is producing 90 barrels a day. South of Mannington, the Hope Gas Company's test on the J. W. Hess farm is still in doubt. The hole stands full of oil from the Gordon formation and it will be put to pumping. It will probably make a 20 or 25-barrel producer. If it proves as good as is now indicated, it will be the incentive for some new work in that locality. Some locations have been made and work will begin soon.

In Wetzel county, drilling down old wells, from the Big Injun to the lower formations is still a feature. In some instances paying producers are found in the Gordon or fifth sand and not a few develop gas in one of the lower sands.

Nothing out of the ordinary was discovered in the shallow sand districts. In Ritchie county there is considerable new work starting of an experimental kind. With the return of spring there will be a marked increase in wildcatting on Goose creek and Silver run. It is salt sand territory and can be developed with less expense than in the deep sand territory. South of the Rowlesburg development, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company's wildcat on the S. Bee farm is holding up at about 50 barrels a day. As yet there has not been much of a start made in development work in that locality. The Carter Oil Company is the largest holder of territory in the vicinity of the producer and it is said it will not begin active developments till spring.

On the Ohio side no new discoveries have been made that have aroused new interest. The Woodsfield district continues the most active, but the late completions are a reduced size. North of the Harper pool, and just across the line in Belmont county, there is some new work starting. On Clear Fork and in Sycamore valley, Monroe county, some very creditable producers have been completed in the past two weeks. The district shows a slight increase in development work. In the Rays Run district, Washington county, there is some new work of the wildcat kind under way and starting. The shallow sand districts in this and Noble county are completing about the usual number of wells and the result is about the same, light pumpers and dusters. The late completions in Jefferson county have nearly all come in dry and there is nothing to indicate that a new pool will be discovered in the near future.

PRICE OF EGGS HITS SEASON'S LOWEST MARK

In Allegheny a Trade War Brings the Quotations Down to Almost Nothing.

The lowest price of the season for eggs was reached on Saturday, and merchants predict even a further drop in prices today. The general market is unsatisfactory. There is a large surplus of average prime and lower grades of fresh gathered stock for which the outlet is small and the general feeling is weak and depressed. The finest qualities of fresh gathered are selling at 20 cents, but there is a large proportion of the stock being disposed of at a lower price. Storage eggs are in a demoralized condition, and the best of this class of goods can be had for 13 cents.

There were some parts of Greater Pittsburgh in which eggs of the best quality possible could be bought for 2 cents a dozen. This was on Ohio street, Allegheny, where a bitter warfare has existed over the egg market for some time. It resulted Saturday in the prices being cut to almost nothing. While much goods were disposed of, there were no large individual sales reported.

The egg market was about the only thing which attracted attention on the market Saturday. The excellent weather brought out a large number of buyers and trading was generally good. There were few changes in quotations, however, and prices remained about steady.

The steady market is still maintained by California celery, and it is not likely the prices will be reduced for some time, as this stock has the call entirely on the local markets.

It is expected that butter will rise several points today on the report from Elgin, as this market is becoming somewhat stronger. There is a good demand for strictly fresh creamery butter, and the supply is just fair. Imitation stock is dragging.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined Saturday were: Pennsylvania, 17 cars corn, 9 cars oats, 18 cars hay, 3 cars feed, 1 car straw; Baltimore & Ohio, 1 car corn, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 9 cars hay, 1 car feed.

The market closed weak on Saturday. The receipts of grain during the week were more than ample for the demands made. No. 1 timothy hay is finding ready sale, but the balance of the hay grades are not in brisk demand. As soon as trade conditions improve a better demand and a stronger market are looked for.

TRADING ON LONDON EXCHANGE IS POOR

Since First of Year Investment Orders Are Scarce and Speculators Are Quiet.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
(Copyright, 1906, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Very dismal, indeed, was the state of affairs on the stock exchange during the past week. Even investment orders, which have been the mainstay of the house since the turn of the year, have ceased to come in, while speculation is as dead as any coffin nail. There are some brokers who have not made any bargains for more than a week.

Many explanations are forthcoming to account for the sudden drying up of the wells of business just as activity on the stock exchange appeared to be developing well. That some nervous apprehension is felt as to the possible introduction of confiscatory legislation in the new parliament, cannot be gainsaid. But this, of itself, would not seem to be sufficient to account for the general apathy in the markets. Fears of foreign troubles may be dismissed entirely, the Algeciras conference being a harmless bugbear, which is trotted out in the absence of a more live topic, and certainly there is nothing in the economic or monetary position which calls for alarm.

Possibly the continued decline in South African securities has more to do with the paralysis of general business than most critics are inclined to admit, for the number of people who have been hit by the fall in Kaffirs must be enormous, and in many quarters there is an uneasy suspicion that the worst has not yet been reached. Most unpleasant feelings have been aroused in the consol market in connection with the drawing of the first installment of $10,000,000 of exchequer bonds issued in April last, and it is understood that presentations have been made to the stock exchange committee on the subject. It is well known, of course, that the bonds have been quoted at a discount and that those drawn for redemption are to be paid off at par.

Business could hardly have been duller than it has been in the American section during the week, and, with speculative business in the home railway market likewise quite dead, one would have thought the question of charges for contangoes was not a very pressing one. But this threadbare old topic has been revived and has given rise to quite a lively discussion. That the prohibitive rates levied by dealers have done much to discourage operations is quite obvious, but it may be doubted whether, if home rails could be carried over at all times as easily and as cheaply as consols, there would be any material increase in the volume of speculative business.

For one thing, the bulk of home railway stock has got home—that is to say, in the keeping of the genuine investor—who is after dividends, not market turns, and that has done more to kill speculation than any financial restrictions. The money market still remains in a straitened condition.

NEGRO BOY IS SUSPECTED OF STEALING NEWSPAPERS

George Smith, aged 17, a negro boy, was arrested yesterday morning on suspicion of his having stolen papers from John Arnold, who conducts a news stand at Center avenue and Crawford street. The latter has been annoyed considerably by having his papers taken, and upon his request young Smith was placed under arrest.

Will Interest Rates Continue Steady?

A question which arises with thoughtful men. The Colonial Endowment Contracts absolutely fix the rate of interest for a term of 5 to 20 years, as selected. This allows investors to plan definitely for future funds. If $1,000 is desired, pay $34.20 a year, for 20 years, and then receive $1,000 cash. Any sum in even thousands for 5, 10 or 15-year periods, at proportionate rates. Booklet A — free. Payments can be stopped anytime, contract surrendered and money withdrawn by giving proper notice.

A cash investment is another form, enabling anyone to provide, in one payment, for any desired sum in even thousands, due in 5 to 20-year periods, as above. These, called the Colonial Accumulation Endowment Contracts, cost $502.50 cash, per thousand dollars, and pay $1,000 cash, in 20 years. Proportionate rates for other amounts and periods. Booklet B—free.

IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE

BY EMILE GABORIAU

Author of "THE MYSTERY OF ORCIVAL," "FILE NO. 113," Etc.

CHAPTER IX.

During the last 24 hours Mechinet had changed so much that his sisters recognized him no longer. Immediately after Denise's departure they had hurried to his room, hoping to hear all about that mysterious interview; but at the first word they ventured, he cried out in a tone of voice which quite frightened them, "that is none of your business! That is nobody's business!" Left alone, he remained quite overcome by his adventure, and pondered as to how he could make good his promise without ruining himself. It was indeed no easy matter.

When the decisive moment arrived he discovered that he should never be able to get the note into M. de Boiscoran's hands, without being caught by the lynx-eyed M. Galpin-Daveine, and as the letter was burning in his pocket he found himself compelled, after long hesitation, to appeal for help to the man who waited on Jacques—in a word, to Prumence Cheminot. The latter was, after all, not such a bad fellow; his only besetting sin being unconquerable laziness, and his only crime, in the eyes of the law, perpetual vagrancy. He was attached to Mechinet, who upon former occasions, when he was in jail, had given him tobacco, or a few coppers to buy a glass of wine. He made no objections, therefore, when the clerk asked him to give M. de Boiscoran a letter, and bring back an answer. He acquitted himself, moreover, faithfully and honestly of his errand. But, because everything had gone well once, it did not follow that Mechinet felt quite at peace. Besides being tormented by the thought that he had betrayed his duty, he felt wretched in being at the mercy of an accomplice. How easily might he not be betrayed! An indiscretion, a blunder, an accident, might ruin him!

He would lose his place and all his other employments, one by one. He Farewell to all ambitious dreams, all hopes of wealth, all dreams of an advantageous marriage. And still, by an odd contradiction, Mechinet did not repent what he had done, and felt quite ready to do it over again. He was in this state of mind when the old nurse brought him Denise's letter.

"What, again?" he exclaimed; but when he had read the note, he replied, "Tell your mistress I will be there!" In his heart he thought some untoward event must have happened.

The little gate was ajar, and he had only to push it back to enter M. de Chandore's garden. There was no moon, but the night was clear, and under the trees, at a short distance from him, he recognized Denise, and went toward her. "Pardon me, sir," she at once said, "for having ventured to send for you."

Mechinet's anxiety vanished instantly. He no longer thought of his strange position. His vanity was flattered by the confidence shown him by this young lady, whom he knew very well as the noblest the most beautiful and the richest heiress in the province. "You were quite right to send for me, mademoiselle," he remarked, "if I can be of any service to you."

In a few words she had told him all, and then asked his advice.

"I am entirely of M. Folgat's opinion," he replied. "I think that grief and isolation begin to have their effect upon M. de Boiscoran's mind."

"Oh, that thought is maddening!" murmured the poor girl.

"I think, as M. Magloire does, that M. de Boiscoran, by his silence, only makes his situation worse. I have a proof of it. M. Galpin, who, at first, was all doubt and anxiety, is now quite re-assured. The attorney general has written him a letter, in which he compliments his energy."

"And then?"

"Then he must induce M. de Boiscoran to speak. I know very well that he is firmly resolved not to speak; but if you were to write to him, since you can write to him——"

"A letter would be useless."

"But——"

"Useless, I tell you. But I know a means."

"You must use it promptly, mademoiselle. Do not lose a moment. There is no time——"

The night was clear, but not clear enough for the clerk to see how very pale Denise was. "Well, then, I must see M. de Boiscoran; I must speak to him," she said.

She expected the clerk to start, to cry out, to protest. Far from it; he observed in the quietest tone—"Yes, to be sure; but how?"

"Blangin, the keeper, and his wife, retain their places only because they are dependent on them for support. Why might I not offer them, in return for an interview with M. de Boiscoran, the means to go and live in the country?"

"Why not?" asked the clerk. And in a lower voice, replying to the voice of his conscience, he went on—"The jail in Sauveterre is not at all like the police stations and prisons of larger towns. The prisoners are few in number; they are scarce guarded. When the doors are shut, Blangin is master within."

"I will go and see him tomorrow," declared Denise.

Once on certain slopes, you are impelled downward. Having yielded to Denise's first suggestions, Mechinet had, unconsciously, bound himself to her forever. "No, do not go there, mademoiselle," he said. "You could not make Blangin believe that he runs no danger; nor could you sufficiently arouse his cupidity. I will speak to him myself."

"Oh, sir," exclaimed Denise, "how can I ever——"

"How much may I offer him?" asked the clerk.

"Whatever you think proper—anything."

"Then, mademoiselle, I will bring you an answer tomorrow, here at the same hour."

And away he went, leaving Denise so buoyed up by hope, that all that evening, and the next day, her aunts and the marchioness, not being in the secret, asked each other incessantly—"What can be the matter with the child?"

She, on her side, was thinking that, if the answer was favorable, ere 24 hours had gone by she would see Jacques, and she kept on saying to herself—"If only Mechinet is punctual!"

He was so. At 10 o'clock precisely, he pushed open the little gate just as on the night before, and hastily exclaimed—"It is all right!"

Denise was so terribly excited that she had to lean for support against a tree.

"Blangin agrees," the clerk went on, "I promised him sixteen thousand francs. It is a good deal."

"It is very little."

"He insists upon having it in gold."

"So he shall."

"Finally, he makes certain conditions with regard to the interview, which will appear rather hard to you."

By this time Denise had quite recovered. "What are they?" she asked.

"Blangin has to take all possible precautions against detection, although, of course, he is quite prepared for the worst. He has arranged matters in this way: Tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock you will pass by the jail. The door will be open, and Blangin's wife, whom you know very well, as she was formerly in your service, will be standing on the threshold. If she does not speak to you, keep on your way, something will have happened. If she does speak to you, go in with her, quite alone, and she will show you into a small room, adjoining her own. There you will stay, till Blangin, perhaps at a late hour, thinks he can safely take you to M. de Boiscoran's cell. When the interview is over, you must come back to the little room, where a bed will be ready for you, and you must spend the night there; this is the hardest part of it; you cannot leave the prison till the next day."

This was certainly terrible; still, after a moment's reflection, Denise replied—"Never mind! I accept. Tell Blangin that it is all right."

That Denise should accept all Blangin's conditions was perfectly natural, but to obtain M. de Chandore's consent was a far more difficult task. Denise understood this so well, that, for the first time in her life, she felt embarrassed in her grandfather's presence. She hesitated, she prepared her little speech, and she selected her words carefully. But in spite of all her skill, in spite of the art with which she managed to present her strange request, M. de Chandore had no sooner understood her project than he exclaimed—"Never, never, never!"

Perhaps in his whole life the old gentleman had never expressed himself in so positive a manner. His brow had never looked so dark. Usually, when his granddaughter had a petition to present, his lips might say "No;" but his eyes always said "Yes."

Cotillon Favors for Club Evenings.

Pretty Ones of Tissue Paper Used by Fashionable Hostesses.

By ROSANNA SCHUYLER.

Favors used in cotillions this season have been extremely pretty, and so many are made of crepe or plain tissue paper that they are extremely inexpensive. This puts them within the reach of clubs that find cotillon giving a charming way of entertaining in the winter.

Recently at Mrs. Ogden Mills' dance there was the reproduction of the garden scene from "Faust" done in paper flowers, and it was remarkably pretty.

Realizing that those who now attend these dances want to be amused with the figures, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney planned an Indian figure, a "Red Riding-hood" movement and one in which rubber balloons and rubber pigs were inflated during the dance.

In the Indian figure the women carried crepe paper bags of a leatherlike color, and war sticks or spears, with a gilt paper point at the top. The handles were of light wood covered with red crepe paper and tied with ribbon and tulle to match. In their hair they were crepe paper feathers, prettily done with tinsel so that they sparkled as the young women danced. The men were more formidable in their chieftain's dress. They had big war belts of leather colored crepe paper that were about 18 inches wide, and to them were hung six imitation scalps with long black hair, also of paper. On their heads they wore the regulation headdress of feathers and the long tail that reached to their feet. In one hand they carried the Indian battleax.

The young women's costumes were more picturesque in the red riding hood figure. They wore long red crepe paper caps with hoods attached and rosettes of paper and long streamers of red satin ribbons. To match these the men wore big red Mexican hats with high crowns, and bright gilt bells hung on the brim so that they jangled every time the wearer moved.

The guests were all delighted with the inflated rubber pig and balloon figures. The balloons were fastened to the women's wrists or wide ribbons made into rosettes, and long streamers from which they soared into the air when filled.

Quite as picturesque as the Indian cotillon was the Japanese one given by Mrs. Charles F. Barney. In the prominent figure at this dance the women all wore kimonos of chrysanthemum crepe paper. These garments reached a trifle below the waist and were made exactly like the familiar house gowns, with wide, loose sleeves. They were all of the same pattern paper, but were edged with different-colored satin ribbons, some with red, others with yellow, green and blue. On their heads they wore an oriental kind of headgear, with big yellow chrysanthemums on either side of their temples. These were held in place by two pieces of heavy paper wired to keep them in shape and fitted to the head. The men wore the regulation Japanese hat of crepe paper, in yellow, blue, purple, etc., decorated with paper birds and animals of vivid colored paper. In another figure the women carried prettily decorated Japanese umbrellas. The figure in which they wore garlands of wisteria vines around their necks while to match them the men had boutonnieres of the same vine, was decidedly effective. Later the women carried dainty baskets filled with loose cherry blossoms in pink, which they showered on their partners during the dance, and the men had cherry blossom branches that they held above the young women's heads whenever it was convenient.

Model Room for Spring Sewing Will Expedite and Simplify Work.

A sewing room is almost a necessity in a family where there are several girls, especially when the spring dressmaking begins. If there is not enough space in the house for a permanent sewing room then one of the bedrooms should be made into a temporary one until the spring dressmaking is finished. If possible a large, airy room should be selected, and one that faces the north, for a light from that direction lasts longer and is better for work, though a small room with a western exposure is better than none. When a suitable apartment has been decided upon all the furniture should be removed, together with the knick-knacks and the pictures above the space where the machine, cutting table, etc., are to be placed.

The floor, whether bare or carpeted, should be covered with white cotton, sewed together into strips and fastened about the edge with drugget pins. This coverlet keeps the carpet, etc., free from ravellings and scraps, and because of its color, pins, needles, bastings and bits of materials that are constantly being lost are easily found.

The furniture in the sewing room is distinctive as that used in a drawing room or a library, and the same rules for arrangement and comfort as well as to avoid crowding should be followed. The sewing machine is essential, as is a cutting table and a long pier glass that can be turned at all angles so the person being fitted can see just how the garments fits; stove, either for gas or oil, irons, for pressing, and a pressing table. Three comfortable lightweight bent-wood chairs are necessary in the room, one for the machine, another for hand work, and a third for the person who is waiting to be fitted or for a chance to cut or use the machine.

These should be low, rather than high; at any rate they should be comfortable, or a person who occupies them practically all day will have more fatigue than is necessary. As to the other furnishings, they are minor but quite essential, for without pin cushions, needle books, pockets for thread, findings, etc., the room would be incomplete.

Before moving the machine into the apartment, or, if the room is already established, before beginning the spring sewing the machine should be thoroughly cleaned. All the working parts should be saturated with kerosene and left to stand for several hours before being rubbed off with a clean, dry flannel rag. If the machinery is gummy after this treatment I would take off the works and boil them in water and washing soda for 20 minutes until they are free from any suspicion of stickiness. Then rinse the parts thoroughly with boiling water and put them in a hot place to dry. Before putting them into place rub with a clean, dry flannel rag. Then oil the works generously with the best kind of machine oil, run at the top notch of speed and wipe off the superfluous oil before fastening the screws and nuts into place, setting the presser foot and properly adjusting the needle. After an overhauling and cleaning the machine should run for six months without needing another cleaning or regulating.

The position of the machine is all-important, for often the fineness of the work depends upon the light that falls on the work. It should, if possible, be in a position several inches from the wall, where a northern light falls from the back over the worker's shoulders to the sewing beneath the needle. In front of the machine a straight chair of a comfortable height should be set. It should be of lightweight wood, so that it can be easily moved from one part of the room to the other, and should be plain, for angles and knobs are as a rule in the way and catch on loose pieces of work when they are being hastily moved from one place to another.

A low dresser with a big mirror and wide shallow drawers should be placed where a good light falls on the glass. The drawers are especially valuable, for in them the materials and findings are placed. A folding cutting table large enough to fashion skirts, etc., is another piece of necessary furniture. It is of added use in the room if fitted with drawers.

Without a press board or manikin ironing table the room would be incomplete. This board should have rounded edges and corners over which crooked seams can be ironed into shape. Near the pressing table the stove naturally belongs. It can be kept in a long narrow wood box, that is large enough to accommodate at least two flatirons, one large and the other small.

FORECAST OF THE WORLD'S MOST IMPORTANT AFFAIRS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

House of Representatives.

The national house of representatives will dispose of one of the regular annual supply measures—the army appropriation bill—this week. On Monday the first "suspension" day of the session will take place. Suspension day is a procedure where a member may, if he has made arrangement with the speaker in advance, be recognized and enter a motion to suspend the rules and pass a bill. Chairman Hull of the military affairs committee expects to call up the army appropriation bill Tuesday. He estimates that it will be Thursday or even Friday before the measure is finally disposed of. The general debate on the bill will occupy Tuesday and at least a part of Wednesday. Provision of the bill abolishing the grade of lieutenant general of the army will be the text of a number of speeches. To encourage marksmanship in the army, the committee has inserted a provision in the bill creating three grades of "experts" and providing for increased pay for each grade. The first grade carries with it added pay of $1 a month; the second grade $2 and the third $3. Provision for joint army and militia maneuvers is another topic prolific of discussion. There is an aggregate of $700,000 carried in the measure for this purpose. The plan is to have the maneuvers held in many sections of the country. Regular army troops are to be marched from their regular posts to the sites selected for the maneuvers, and militia within a convenient location will be asked to participate. In this way general benefit is expected to be spread throughout both organizations.

The United States Senate.

The senate's program so far as it has been arranged provides only for the final consideration of the pure food bill and the continuance of the discussion of the statehood bill, which was begun last Thursday by Senator Dick. The vote on the pure food bill will be taken on Wednesday and it will be discussed to a considerable extent during Monday and Tuesday. Senator Dick will continue his speech on Monday in support of the statehood bill, but there is no decision as to who will follow him. Senator Beveridge says that he expects the opposition to choose a senator to reply to the Ohio senator, but no one on that side appears prepared to proceed with a set speech. All interest centers in Senator Foraker's provision giving both territories an opportunity to vote separately on the question of joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona. Senator Beveridge expresses confidence that the bill will not be amended in any respect by the senate.

The British Parliament.

When King Edward formally opens parliament today he will set in motion the wheels of a new government in Great Britain. His majesty will make the usual speech from the throne, and parliament will immediately take up the discussion of its reply. The Liberal party, under the leadership of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, will then begin putting into effect measures which it promised in the recent electoral campaign.

The Moroccan Conference.

The Algeciras conference on Moroccan affairs does not promise immediate results. The discussion of the most difficult question before the conference, the policing of Morocco, will proceed this week. The exchange of notes which has taken place between France and Germany leads to the belief that both countries are desirous of reaching an amicable adjustment of the questions involved.

Indoor Swimming Contest.

Every prominent swimmer in the United States has entered for the indoor swimming championships to be held at the New York Athletic club beginning February 21 and continuing for four days. In addition to the races many prominent clubs will be represented by water polo and relay teams.

Mining Engineers to Meet.

The national convention of the American institute of mining engineers will be held at Lehigh university, South Bethlehem, Pa., on February 21.

Opening of the Mardi Gras.

The annual mardi gras festivities in New Orleans begin on February 22 and continue to the 27th.

KING CHRISTIAN'S FUNERAL ATTENDED BY THE KAISER

Cordial Greeting Between German Ruler and French Ambassador at Copenhagen.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 18.—The city presented a scene of animation throughout the day, the presence of Emperor William and the curiosity manifested over his movements adding in no little way to the excitement and serving in a measure to divert men's minds from the solemn event at Roskilde—the burial of King Christian. There was a constant stream of people passing through the streets, which were draped with crape and flags, on their way to the station to take trains for Roskilde. King Frederick and Emperor William drove to the station in the same carriage.

In the afternoon requiem services were held in all the churches in Copenhagen and throughout the country. On the return of the mourners from Roskilde the queen and some of the other royal personages immediately drove to the Amelienberg castle, while Emperor William, accompanied by King Frederick and the Danish crown prince and Princes Waldemar and Harold, drove to the free port and boarded the German battleship Preussen, on board of which the Danish guests remained for 15 minutes. After cordial leave takings Emperor William accompanied the royal guests to their carriages and then returned to the ship.

Baron de Courcel and the members of his mission visited the emperor on board the Preussen, and his majesty and Baron de Courcel engaged in a conversation of 20 minutes' duration on deck and in the smoking-room. The emperor was most cordial, and assisted the French ambassador to don his fur-lined coat when he was leaving the warship.

The magnificent old Gothic church at Roskilde presented a brilliant spectacle this afternoon when King Christian IX., amid the thunder of guns, the sonorous tones of the organ and the blare of trumpets, was laid to rest with the long line of his predecessors on the Danish throne whose remains repose in the side of the chapels in Roskilde's redstone fane.

Three Tragedies In Two Months.

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. VA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Within the last two months three members of the Bowen family of Sardis, O., near here, have met with violent deaths. The latest tragedy in the family was the killing of Robert Bowen, the father, on whom a tree fell. Elmer Bowen, a son, dropped dead, and another son, "Lafe" Bowen, a Wheeling policeman, was killed by a negro recently.

Send Zimmerman to Jail.

John Zimmerman was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman Groetzinger on a charge of receiving stolen goods. M. I. Hollender, manager for the Castelberg Jewelry Company of Smithfield street, alleged that Albert Salabes, a salesman, stole $1,000 worth of jewelry from the firm and sold it to Zimmerman.

THE EASY OIL.

Scott's Emulsion is "the easy oil"—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for the stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one whose health is properly regarded will accept a cheap emulsion or alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

WEST IS AGITATED OVER SUMMER BALL

Iowa Baseball Players Likely to Stir Up More Trouble for "Big Nines" to Wrestle With.

FROM COLLEGE AND SCHOOL

More work for the "Big Nine" conference professors seems to have been cut out by the startling admissions made Friday by the members of the university of Iowa baseball squad, who refused to sign eligibility papers for the reason that they were one and all "dyed in the wool" professionals. To make matters worse, they made the statement that no college baseball player in the west of any ability deserved to rate as an amateur, for the reason that at one time or another all had received remuneration for services on the diamond.

The Hawkeyes have undoubtedly stirred up a hornet's nest, and the action to be taken by the college professors will be interesting to watch. The Iowa baseball men incriminated themselves by confessing that they had played in the summer months on various professional teams.

It is known that the great majority of college ball players do play with summer resort nines and other professional teams during part of their vacation time, and local authorities expect that the admitted professionalizing of the Hawkeyes will prod the conference to shut down on all summer playing and to draw a straighter line for their conduct of college players when out of school.

After the Penn-Harvard basketball game Saturday evening the Pennsylvania and Princeton gymnastic teams gave an exhibition of gymnasium work. Penn had the advantage in the contests which she was in, but the wonderful work of Mumin and Hoagland for Princeton in the double trapeze act evened things up. Penn had no entry in this event. Summary:

Indian clubs — Ritchie, Penn, and Sayre, Princeton.

Double trapeze—Munn, Princeton, and Hoagland, Princeton.

Horizontal bars—Dowd, Penn; Bradford, Penn, and Kraus, Penn.

Parallel bars — Hay, Princeton; McCabe, Princeton; Dowd, Princeton; Kraus, Penn; Wister, Penn; Ukahoski, Penn.

Side horse—Kraus, Penn; McCabe, Princeton; Wester, Penn; Kraus, Penn; Freeman, Penn.

Balance trapeze—Karow, Princeton.

Flying rings—Dowd, Princeton; McCabe, Princeton; Kraus, Penn; Bradford, Penn.

Tumbling—Down, Princeton; McCabe, Princeton; Dieterle, Penn.

At West Point, Saturday night, in the roughest game of basketball played there this season, Princeton defeated the army, 33 to 26. Near the end of the final period Rockwell, already badly winded, received a hard jolt and collapsed and had to be carried from the floor. Lineup:

Army—26.	Princeton—33.
Rockwell, L. C. (Smith)	F. ..... Vanderbilt
T. J. Johnson	F. ..... Thompson
Higley	C. ..... Clark
Hetrick	G. ..... Halliday
Castle	G. ..... Bokman

Goals—Rockwell 4, Johnson, Hetrick 3, Castle, Halliday 3, Bokman 3, Clark 3, Vanderbilt 3, Thompson 3. Goals from foul line—Castle 8, Vanderbilt 3.

The University of Chicago swimming team defeated the Illinois team Saturday night at Urbana, 28 to 13, in the first aquatic meet ever held at the state university. The maroon swimmers demonstrated their superiority in all the events, taking every first.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Feb. 17.—Harvard's freshman hockey team yesterday defeated the Yale first year men, 5 goals to 0.

At New Haven Saturday Yale beat Cornell at basketball, 31 to 7.

Coach Sweetland had the gym floor at Ohio State all to himself Saturday afternoon and hustled his men through some workouts. The squad which appeared was less than 20. The rest was something of a tryout for the Indiana meet early in March. The summary of events follows:

40-yard dash—Cook first, Rothrock second. Time, 5⅗ seconds.

Second heat—Piper first, Smithkons second. Time, 5⅗ seconds.

Mile run—Shipp, first; Snow, second. Time, 4:50.

High jump (one entry)—Norton made the jump at 5 feet 1½ inches.

40-yard low hurdles—Hagaman, first; Cook, second. Time, 5⅘ seconds.

40-yard high hurdles—Hagaman, first; Cook, second. Time, 6 seconds.

Half-mile run—Green, first; Roller, second. Time, 2:11.

Pole vault—Dupuy, first; Rock, second. Height, 9 feet 3 inches.

Two-mile run—Yeagle, first; Waid, second. Time, 11m. 58s.

Pound shot-put—Hagaman, first; Lincoln, second. Distance, 45 feet. Lincoln's distance was 43 feet 10 inches.

Cornell is on the verge of another radical change in her athlete policy, according to Physical Director C. V. E. Young. The committee on student organizations, through which all the varsity teams are regulated, is said to be unanimously in favor of barring first year men from competition for varsity teams and of limiting a varsity man's activity to three years.

The committee also has considered the advisability of allowing Cornell men to play summer baseball for money with all teams not connected with a regular professional league. The sentiment on this change is not so decided, however, as upon the other two. Several universities have been approached on the matter, and if any of the big six can be induced to join with Cornell the scheme will be put into practice. It is thought here that with Prof. White's influence at Harvard the Crimson can be induced to try the experiment.

The Harvard fencing team won the triangular meet with Massachusetts Tech and Columbia at the Tech gymnasium. The Crimson scored 12 points, Columbia 8 and Tech 1. This is the first meet of the new intercollegiate league. The teams were made up as follows:

Harvard—Arthur Tyng, W. L. Bowman and William Macleod.

Columbia—Oliver Du F. Kehrlein, Fred. Lage and C. G. Amend.

Technology—Jorge Lage, R. D. Gatewood and Harold Dountchean.

Each man fought every other man, making 27 bouts in all. Bowman of Harvard won all his bouts but that with J. Lage. Gatewood, a graduate of the Naval academy, lost all his bouts but one.

LARRY TEMPLE AND GEORGE COLE TO MEET SOON

A boxing match was arranged last night in which two of the best fighters in the country will take part. They are George Cole, the middleweight fighter of Philadelphia, and Larry Temple of this city. They are to meet at East Pittsburgh on Tuesday night, February 27. Temple and Cole fought last Monday night at Altoona. The contest will be brought off under the auspices of the Business Men's club of the above place and they are all reputable business men who are behind the club. There will be several other good boxing bouts on the card.

Denison Defeats Otterbein.

WESTERVILLE, O., Feb. 18.—(Special.—Denison ran away with Otterbein here last night at basketball in the first half, and got such a lead that the fine playing of the local boys in the final period was of no avail and the visitors from Granville went home with the game by the score of 53 to 27. Livingstone starred for the Baptists and Clymer and Strahl were the best finders of the baskets for Otterbein. The lineup:

Denison—32.	Otterbein—27.
Pine	F. ..... Clymer
Shoop, Chambers	F. ..... Strahl
Livingston	C. ..... Weaver
Coe, Rochwood	G. ..... Voorhees
Weber	G. ..... Smith

Bucknell Beats Williamsport.

LEWISBURG, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Bucknell outplayed the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. team in a basketball game in Tustin gymnasium last night. The contest was very slow and the result was never in doubt. The final score was 32 to 18. The lineup:

Bucknell—32.	Williamsport—18.
O'Brien	F. ..... Turner
Lose	F. ..... C. Smith
Lenhart	C. ..... Jackson
Wagner	G. ..... Lutcher

VETERANS ON THE KISKI SCHOOL BALL NINE

JACKSON AND SNEDDEN SIGN WITH GREENVILLE

"Lefty" Boyle to Be With Montgomery—Louisville Is Seeking Catcher Red Smith.

William "Lefty" Jackson, the local pitcher, and William "Red" Snedden of Grove City, a third baseman, have signed with the Greenville Texas League club for this season. They will leave for the south next week. These players were with Fairmont last year, Snedden being there all season, while Jackson joined the club towards the close of the year. Jackson will take his run on the rubber for Greenville and be used as a general utility player because of his versatility in fielding and his excellent batting.

"Lefty" Boyle, the Allegheny pitcher who was with Niles last year, has signed with the Montgomery Southern league club for this season. He is a promising pitcher.

Red Smith, the catcher and outfielder who was with McKeesport last year, has an offer from Louisville. Smith is spending the winter in Fairmont and an effort is being made to have him sign with that club which is a member of the P., O. and W. Va. league.

Van Patterson, the Niles first baseman and catcher, has signed with Erie.

Wilkes-Barre of the New York State league claims to have signed Pitcher Bowen, who has been secured by Errie Lee for Steubenville.

Earl "Skin" Russell, the blonde-haired pitcher and infielder of the Pittsburgh Collegians, is somewhat of a kidder and he takes particular delight in getting "Sunny" Price going. One day last week "Skin" sent the following telegram to Price, who is attending college at Ada, O.: "If you get three on bases and don't know what to do, telegraph me." He evidently thought Price was playing a game around a stove.

Johnstown has practically completed its lineup. So many players have been taken from protected clubs that the directors do not deem it advisable to divulge their names at this time. Among the old players signed are Atherton, Martin, Hagen, Glendon, Murphy and Pleiss. Left Fielder Willig of Williamsport and infielder Louden of Piedmont will be given fair trials, while the other players signed have established reputations in the strongest class A leagues in the country. Johnstown will have one of the strongest line-ups in the Tri-State ranks.

A deal has been closed by which Willig, the Johnstown outfielder, will be transferred to Williamsport for Catcher Blair if the former agrees to play baseball in his home town.

Altoona is arranging a strong line-up. Manager Crollius will start work on the formation of the Lancaster team within the present week.

All the managers of the Tri-State have a friendly feeling for the new independent Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia league and they will make no inroads on the players of the latter organization.

DENNY WINS IN PLAY OFF AT PINEHURST

PINEHURST, N. C., Feb. 18.—J. O'H. Denny of Pittsburgh, who, in the St. Valentine's golf tournament yesterday, tied with C. H. Rosenfeld of New York with a net score of 80, won in the play-off.

Objects to the Route.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Several prospective competitors in the Glidden trophy tour of 1906 protest against the route proposed for the event. Objection is taken principally to the starting of the tour from Buffalo instead of New York, as formerly. As scheduled the tourists will leave Buffalo on Monday, July 23, going to Toronto for the first night's stop, and thence to Quebec, with several intermediate stops, with the return via Maine, the White mountains, Lake Champlain, Saratoga and Albany, to New York. The time occupied from Buffalo will be two weeks. Of the route selected the best roads are from Buffalo to Toronto and Kingston, and on the home stretch from Albany to New York.

To shorten the touring distance, several suggestions have been offered. One suggestion is that sections of the tour be started simultaneously from New York and Boston, joining at Albany, and from Detroit and Pittsburgh, meeting the eastern division at Buffalo, the tour then becoming a competition to Montreal and resuming a purely pleasure phase upon arrival in that city.

Fear Repeal of Sunday Ball.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—If the stopping of Sunday baseball in Ohio should wreck the Ohio and Pennsylvania league the New Castle club will join Youngstown, Akron, Sharon and possibly Oil City, Franklin and one or two other towns to form another league which will not be dependent upon Sunday ball.

FIVE OLD PLAYERS ARE STILL AT KISKI WHO WILL TRY FOR THE NINE

The Kiskiminitas Springs school has bright prospects in baseball this coming spring. Of last year's championship team but five men are available this season, but those who are back are strong players. "Stubby" McCreight, the pitcher, should again be the mainstay on the rubber. Harry Wilson, the clever and popular shortstop and captain, is still in school and should make the position again without any trouble. St. Clair, the first baseman; Judy McGregor, the third baseman, and Jamison, a youngster from Greensburg, who played a fine fielding game in middlefield last spring, will try for their positions.

The round-up of material now in school shows the following men:

Catchers—Watson, S. Cunningham.

Pitchers—McCreight, Wagner, "Muggins" Cunningham.

First Base—St. Clair, Porter, Gacella.

Second Base—Pennach, Guthrie.

Third base—"Judy" McGregor, Graham, Fink.

Shortstop—Jamison, Wilson, Boyd.

Outfielders—Herbert, Haywood, Crawford, Edwards, Walters, Cooper, Anderson and Clark McGregor.

By shooting four goals against East Liberty last Wednesday, John Heron of the Shadyside academy advanced ahead of Alan Bright, the Pittsburgh High school captain, in the list. Harvard went through the intercollegiate campaign without losing a game. The windup saw the clubs in these positions:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Harvard	4	0	1.000
Yale	3	1	.750
Columbia	2	2	.500
Princeton	1	3	.250

The Berkeley school went to West Point in full force Saturday to root for their hockey team, which met the cadets, the final score being: Army, 4; Berkeley, 0.

Poly Prep and the Lawrenceville school met at New York. The score: Poly Prep, 5; Lawrenceville, 2.

A man who keeps a New York boarding house has developed a mania for doing murder. There are two paths open to him—the booby hatch, or Houghton, Michigan, where he might catch a place on one of their several hockey teams.—Toronto Telegram.

Johnstown After the Banner.

JOHNSTOWN, Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The Williamsport High school basketball team, which has been playing on all corners, met its Waterloo here last night in a game with the Johnstown High school by a score of 28 to 8. Johnstown High school has played 10 games this season, winning all of them, among their opponents being the Pittsburgh and Braddock High school teams. The boys are in line for the state interscholastic championship and are making an effort to get into a game with Butler.

Bolger a Winner.

The Bolger club of the First ward defeated the Leach A. C. by 55 to 15. The lineup:

Bolger Club—55.	Leach A. C.—15.
Bruce	F. ..... Chapman
Curtin	F. ..... Mundy

Naps Will Miss Earl Moore.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Earl Moore, Cleveland's star twirler, who led the American league pitchers several years ago, probably will not be able to play ball for several months. The management is not figuring on his services until the middle of the summer at the earliest.

Moore was hit on the instep by a ball last year, and the member has given him much trouble and pain. His inability to begin the season with the club will be a serious blow, as he always has showed his best form early.

Rook Will Not Sign With Newark.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Ross Rook, the crack pitcher of Leland Stanford university, California, who formerly pitched for Case school of Cleveland, will not accept the offer made him by the Newark team of the O. and P. league.

Rook, in a letter to local relatives, says he will not enter professional baseball.

Larry Temple will have a boxing show at the rooms of the Business Men's club on March 6. It will be an intercity affair for colored boxers from this city, Cleveland and Philadelphia.

Boxing at Arnold.

There will be a boxing show tonight at Arnold. Chuck Sloan and Jock Sinnco will meet in the main bout.

ANOTHER LIGHT HARNESS FLYER IS ADDED TO MATINEE FAST ONES

The great array of light harness stars owned in Pittsburgh received an addition Saturday night when Shady Beattie, 2:14¼, trial 2:09¼, arrived from Indianapolis and was placed in the barn of Dave G. McDonald, manager for the Brunots island track. Shady Beattie is a bay gelding 15¾ hands, and eight years old. He is by Shadeon, 2:08¼, and is considered a fine prospect.

This flyer was bought by H. B. Rea, acting for Mr. McDonald, who bought the horse for a member of the Matinee club. It is of interest to know that Shady Beattie was second to J. R. McCune's Uncle William when the latter received his mark of 2:10¾, they going to the half mile in 1:06.

Mr. McDonald also received in his stable two youngsters by J. D. Callery's Guy, 2:12. The yearling is Elfena Jackson, by Parkville. The Two-year-old is by Kentucky Bird, 2:22¼. Mr. McDonald left for Chicago last night to pick up two more good ones.

MORRIS WOOD WINS THREE BIG EVENTS

The national amateur outdoor skating championships were decided before a large crowd Saturday night at Beacon's open air rink, New York, under the auspices of the Beacon Skating club. Morris Wood, the national amateur champion, won all three championships, the half-mile, the one-mile and the three-mile, thereby repeating the performance of last year.

The ice was poor and partly covered with water, and the times made in all the races were slow. In the three-mile event Morris Wood fell, but got up, went after the field, and, catching the leaders in the last lap, won out in a close finish with P. J. Kearney. In the one-mile, too, Kearney gave Wood a hard fight, and the victory of the latter was only by inches.

A. C. Brown of Montreal, the only Canadian skater who took part in the championships, finished third to Wood and Kearney in the three-mile event, but failed to get a place in the mile and half-mile. He finished second to Kearney in the second heat of the half-mile, but was shut out of the final heat.

The result of the races gives Wood the three national championships again, while Kearney took two seconds, in the one-mile and three-mile, respectively. Harry C. McDonald finished third in the final heat of the half-mile, and James Wray was second. Wood won this race easily.

Others who started in the races were Allan Taylor, Gus Stolz, Allie Wood, W. R. Lee, W. L. Smith, W. W. Swan, E. L. Crabb and S. D. Kirk, Hugo Palliser of Brooklyn and Arthur Y. Sarony, the captain of the New York Athletic club skating team, were prevented from starting by sickness.

The half-mile was decided first, in two heats and a final. Morris Wood won the first heat, with Allie Wood, his younger brother, second, and Harry P. McDonald third. The time was 1:25 2-5. P. J. Kearney took the second heat, and C. Brown of Montreal was second and James Wray third. The time was 1:36 2-5. The order of the final heat was Wood, Wray, McDonald. The time was 1:32 1-5. Wood won easily.

The one-mile was decided in a single heat. The feature was the close race throughout between Wood and Kearney, who finished first and second, respectively. E. Schultz was third. The time was 3:08 2-5.

Brown, the Canadian skater, was more at home in the three-mile race than in the shorter distance events. He seemed at one time to have a good chance to win, but when it came to the finish it was nip and tuck between Wood and Kearney, with the national champion hard pressed to win. The Canadian was third. The time was 10:29, which was good, in view of the poor ice. In all the races the water which covered the ice caused numerous spills.

Wants Alton to Meet Missippi.

The Penn Athletic club of Altoona wants Joe Alton to fight Young Missippi on Washington's birthday, but the inducements are not large enough and the articles will not be signed. Alton is also wanted by a club at Saginaw, Mich., to meet Dick Fitzpatrick, a 120-pound fighter, that Jack Blackburn put out in a couple of rounds at South Sharon. Alton is ready to take Fitzpatrick on, but he wants the money divided 75 per cent to the winner and 25 to the loser, while Fitzpatrick wants it split, win or lose.

Phenicie to Fight Farren.

Jack Phenicie, the 105-pound champion of this city, will meet Jimmy Farren of Baltimore at Johnstown next Monday night in a 15-round contest. There must be a decision or they will have to go until there is a decision. Farren last Friday night, at Baltimore, knocked out Kid Egan in seven rounds and showed that he is one of the best 118-pound men in the country. Phenicie will have to give away weight.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

The Homewood Library A. C. has signed some of the best players in the Liberty valley. Any players wishing to join an 18 and 20-year-old team, should write Ed. M. McCrea, 7125 Mt. Vernon street, city.

The Crow A. C. team met yesterday afternoon and elected W. Skelton president, August J. Mafredda manager, and J. Cooper captain. The line-up will be: Cooper, Conroy, Upperman, Cherry, Murdock, Lasinski, Patterson, Davis, Pfiel, "Butch" Shoer and Coyne. Any strong amateur team address August J. Pink Pills Kill Small Boy.

ALL WASHINGTON FANS ARE FOR SEAMON

Announcement of McKechnie Being Signed Hailed With Delight.

WASHINGTON, PA., Feb. 18.—The result of the meeting tomorrow for the purpose of organizing the Washington club of the new Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia league is being awaited with interest. To Washington people the election of a manager is by far the most important business of the meeting. William B. ("Bud-get") Seaman, who has acted for the local advisory board in all league meetings, is considered by a majority as the natural man to select and there seems to be little doubt that he will have charge of the managerial end of the Washington club's affairs.

Seaman last year in the independent circuit gave Washington the best baseball the town ever had and it is practically demanded that he be chosen manager. There seems to be no opposition to his candidacy and it is expected that he will be elected unanimously.

The sale of stock in the new club organization is going on rapidly and considerably more than half of the required amount of $3,000 has been disposed of. The stock is being scattered throughout the town as much as possible, as it is not desired to give any one person control of the organization. Shares sell for $10 and it is anticipated that with many holding certificates a greater amount of interest in the club's success will be manifested.

The announcement that "Bill" McKechnie, last year with Butler, had been signed to play the third corner for Washington, was received with general satisfaction here. McKechnie played with Butler in Washington several times last year and is considered here one of the best third basemen in the Independent circuit. The announcement of the securing of his services is the only definite information regarding new players that the local baseball men will give out. Manager Seaman states that he has seven pitchers whose services he can secure. Of these several are from last year.

The players on last year's Independent team who signed reserve contracts at the close of last season are: James, catcher; Slaughter, Tustin, McHale and Springer, pitchers; Gladfelter, first base; Cariss and Moffet, infielders, and McConnell, outfielder. Whether all these men can be utilized or not is not known now, but other good material is in view which, it is believed here, will make a pennant-winning team in the league. Washington people will support a good team and are demanding that the town be represented by an aggregation that will be second to none in the league.

"Cy" Tustin, who twirled good ball here last year, was in town today and expressed the hope that he would be signed by Washington, or if not here, by some other club in the new circuit. Tustin is living in Waynesburg now and is of the opinion that the Greene county metropolis will be represented by a fast aggregation. Tustin says he will go to West Newton and work out with the team of that place prior to the opening of the P., O. and W. Va. season.

It is probable that Bridges, the Washington-Jefferson college football player, will be given a trial on the rubber for Washington if he does any good with the college team. He has a good offer from the New Orleans team of the Southern league, but will not go south unless James, the big catcher, also leaves this section. James has an offer from a Southern league club, but he says he will remain in Washington.

Always Has Last Word.

An unusually tall first baseman was recommended to Ted Sullivan. "You can't throw a ball over his head," Sullivan was told. "Yes, but how many would go through his legs?" was Ted's rejoinder.

Noted Leaders in Missionary and Evangelical Fields to Assist In the Conference.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN

"Missions and Evangelism" will be the keynote of the conference of the Baptist churches of southwestern Pennsylvania, which opens here this morning and will continue two days. The most prominent men of the denomination, whose work has been along these lines, are to take part in the meetings.

In order more thoroughly to arouse the interest of the people in the conference the prominent divines who are to take part in the sessions arrived here Saturday and occupied pulpits in the city and vicinity. The Rev. Dr. Henry C. Mable of Boston, corresponding secretary of the American Baptist Missionary union, preached in the morning at the Shady Avenue Baptist church, and in the evening at the Union Baptist church, South Side. The Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woelfkin, evangelistic secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission society, New York, spoke in the morning at the Fourth Avenue Baptist church and in the evening at the Sandusky Street Baptist church, Allegheny. He will speak Tuesday morning to the students of the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny.

The Rev. Dr. E. B. Chivers, field secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission society, New York, preached in the morning at the Oakland Baptist church and in the evening at the Homewood Baptist church, the Wilkinsburg Baptist church uniting in the latter service. The Rev. Dr. Marcus C. Mason of Tura, Assam, was at the Beth-Eden Baptist church in the morning and at the First German Baptist church in the evening. The Rev. Samuel G. Neil of the American Baptist Publication society, Philadelphia, preached at the First Baptist church, McKeesport, and at the Homestead church. The Rev. Dr. E. B. Palmer of the American Baptist Home Mission society spoke in the morning at the Sandusky Street church, Allegheny, and at the Mt. Washington church at night.

The conference will open at 10 o'clock this morning in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. Dr. Woelfkin will give an exposition of the Scriptures, and this will be followed by a paper on "The Pastor's Bible Study." Prof. M. G. Evans will give an address on "The Dominant Missionary Motives," and a general discussion of the theme will take place. The afternoon's program includes papers on "The Crozer Theological Seminary and Missions and Evangelism," by Prof. Evans; "Bucknell University and Missions and Evangelism," by the Rev. W. N. Courson of Washington, Pa.; "Our Academies and Missions and Evangelism," by the Rev. A. A. Nellis; "Home Missions, or Evangelizing North America," by Dr. A. E. Chivers, and "The Spiritual Life," by Dr. Mable. The general discussion of the first four topics will be opened by Dr. LeRoy Stevens of Lewisburg, Pa.

The evening session at 7:15 will be opened by Dr. M. C. Mason, who will speak on "Missions in India." Dr. Woelfkin will also give an address on "Evangelism." Sessions will be held tomorrow. On Wednesday and Thursday similar meetings will be held in towns in the district outside the county.

LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY LEAGUE'S ANNIVERSARY

Bishop J. P. DuMoulin of Niagara, Canada, Conducts Special Services to Mark the Event.

The 17th anniversary of the Laymen's Missionary league of the Protestant Episcopal church of the diocese of Pittsburgh was celebrated yesterday, two special services being held to mark the event. Yesterday at 10:45 a. m., Bishop J. P. DuMoulin of Niagara, Canada, conducted a special service at Trinity church, Sixth avenue, and again preached at 7:45 p. m. at Emmanuel church, Allegheny. He had for his topic at both services, "Missionary Work," and in connection with them the Rt. Rev. Dr. Cortlandt Whitehead, bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese, performed the ceremony of licensing the members of the league to carry on the work for another year.

The league has as licensed lay readers and evangelists 25 business men and four clergymen, it is under the direction of Archdeacon H. A. Flint, and in the suburbs, where the population is, as yet, unable to maintain a regular clergyman, the league conducts services, looks after the Sunday schools and does everything possible to promote the good of the church. Last year, which was the most successful in the history of the league, 1,251 services were conducted, with an aggregate attendance of 32,693. New work was taken up at Monessen and West Liberty and new church buildings were begun at Ambridge, McKees Rocks and in California avenue, Allegheny.

Movement Is Started by Pastor Who Sings and Plays Organ, Piano and Cornet.

INTEREST IS UNABATED

Braddock is being swayed by a remarkable religious revival which has been in progress for seven weeks, during which time scores have been converted. Yesterday a number of pastors began nightly services, to continue throughout Lent, and there is no apparent loss of interest in the religious fervor and enthusiasm.

The movement found its inception in the First Methodist Episcopal church, under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Charles L. E. Cartwright, who began the eighth week of the meetings last night. He was appointed to the Braddock charge at the Beaver conference, and has been in the conference 25 years.

With one or two exceptions since the services were started, Dr. Cartwright has conducted five services each Sunday; delivering an address to the Sunday school of 9:30 o'clock, then the usual preaching service, the Young People's mass meeting, men's meeting, and the evening evangelistic service. The congregational singing, orchestral music at the men's meeting and young people's meetings, with solo work by able singers, has been a great factor in the revival. The preacher is not alone able to sing with his congregation, having a robust tenor voice of great carrying power, but is a skilled pipe organ player, a cornetist and a pianist of ability. During the earlier years of his ministry Dr. Cartwright was also a music teacher. In the 25 years he has been in the ministry he has personally conducted the music, with only three exceptions, at the Christmas, Easter and Children's day services.

Dr. Cartwright has delivered 73 addresses or sermons at the revival meetings in the 50 days ending yesterday. There have been about 180 conversions during the revival period, but many have united with other churches. During his 25 years' pastorate he has received about 2,500 persons into the church.

PEOPLE MUST ACT TO SAVE NATION

Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy Predicts Fall of the Republic Unless Politics Change.

PUBLIC MUST SUPERINTEND

That the American republic will die unless the people awaken to their sense of political responsibility and take the time to superintend the conduct of public affairs, was the warning sounded yesterday morning in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, by the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy during a lecture on "The Pace That Kills." He declared there was no more outrageous double-dealing in politics than that which has its basis in religiosity, and said in part:

I am of the opinion that if the American people will not awake to the sense of its political responsibility, the republic will die, and that some less representative form of government will succeed it. I am not a pessimist when I say this, nor am I an alarmist. I am simply a believer in the divine law of compensation and in the divine method of evolution. When men will not take the time to superintend the conduct of their public affairs; when they take the position that everybody's business is nobody's business; when because they expect that, by putting low-type politicians in power, they may gain personal advantages therefrom, they do not deserve to have free institutions; they deserve that some wily opportunist should take the chance, as did Napoleon, as did the oppressors of the Roman republic, and secure the reins of government for personal ends or for the benefit of the powerful friends who aid him in his schemes.

There is hope that the bright day of popular government is approaching, and we gather this hope from conditions most promising in character. The fact that we have at the head of the nation a man who, say what critics will of him, is a righteous man; the fact that Gov. Folk has turned the light on, all are sources of bright hope. Perhaps Pittsburgh and the community in which we are living, may be equally wise in the near future.

I shall never utter a word as a rabbi on purely partisan issues, but I shall always hold myself at liberty to indicate to my congregation that, if a city runs the pace that kills honesty, probity and righteousness, its daughters are placed in danger and its sons have little grounds for hope in the future.

Perhaps this hustling, bustling, thriving city of ours may grow wise betimes. Perhaps the people may see that the day is at hand when they must give the quietus to the conditions which make liberty a mockery and a scorn, and representative government a hollow pretense. Perhaps the time has come for the people to prove that they will not permit their civic pride to be trailed in the dust and dirt of low-type machine politics. Perhaps they are convinced that in control of the city government must be placed men whose honor can be trusted; not, forsooth, men whose chief claim lies in party affiliation, or in the fact that they attend the house of worship; for there is no double-dealing more outrageous than that which has its basis in religiosity; there is no hypocrisy more reprehensible than that which takes religion for its mask.

It is not men, merely of party denomination or of membership in any one religious body, who are needed. It is certainly not men who are controlled by purely party considerations, nor they who are no broader than the church aisle, nor they whose views of life are formed solely from walking up and down so limited a path. "A time like this needs men"—men who are broad enough to understand that to be placed in a position of power means to minister to the welfare of the people and not of cliques, moneyed corporations, or any small section of the community. Perhaps Pittsburgh may rise to the opportunity and place herself where she belongs as the center of the industrial activity of the entire world.

NEWS OF WORLD TERSELY TOLD IN SUNDAY GAZETTE

Items of Interest from Every Center of Civilization Prepared for Pittsburgh Literary Palates.

Local.

The Greater Pittsburgh hearing in court will be on March 8. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company was too busy with legislation to stop George Gould, Baltimore & Ohio and Wabash surveyors clashed on the Cumberland-Uniontown route. Capt. J. M. Kreps retired as superintendent of West Penn hospital. Alexander M. Jenkinson's election as mayor of Pittsburgh is apparently assured. The Republican and Good Government parties closed their campaigns in Allegheny. Congressman Burns will fight the appropriation for banquet for congressional postoffice committee and for Schenley race track, to get money for more tenement house inspectors. An Allegheny man found his son's body buried under fallen walls.

Domestic.

Miss Alice Roosevelt and Congressman Nicholas Longworth were married in the White House in the presence of 1,000 guests. Congressman Gillespie claimed lawmakers still hold Pennsylvania railroad passes, and demanded an investigation. Gov. Pennypacker signed four important bills passed by the legislature. Fifty-one students of the sophomore class at Gettysburg were indefinitely suspended for hazing. Officials of the Western Federation of Miners were charged with complicity in the murder of former Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho. An explosion of dynamite killed three men in Missouri.

Foreign.

Lady Dalrymple's efforts during the campaign in England contributed largely to her husband's success. America, England, Japan and Russia are to shortly take up the seal question. Picture entitled "The Mouth of Hell" was discovered in a dark corner of Paris. A photographer was prevented from publicly exhibiting the picture of a countess. An investigation in Berlin shows that many physicians are making less than enough to keep them in food. Terrible story of the blunder of a nervous headsman before a crowd of Arabs. Parents of Princess Ena of Battenberg and King Alfonso are not the best of friends.

Sporting.

Final arrangements were made for the Pittsburgh baseball team's trip to Hot Springs. No matchmaker has been agreed upon by the trust fighting club of San Francisco. The Automobile club of Pittsburgh is forming a federation of motor clubs. Hart has been picked as a sure winner over Burns in their fight Thursday night.

Financial.

New York stocks were active and weak. Sales for the two-hour session were more than 1,000,000 shares. The weekly bank statement was much more favorable than the estimates. The local stock market was dull and lower. Favorable weather and cable reports kept the wheat prices down.

TOMORROW

When You Go to the Polls and Cast Your Vote, As a Free Man,

IF YOU BELIEVE

THAT municipal government is a business and that the best government is one dictated by common sense;

THAT public service corporations should be made to provide better facilities for the man who must ride on the cars in getting to and from his work, and that they should provide more cars and fewer straps;

THAT limited franchises should be granted by the city for adequate compensation and not given away, with a mortgage plaster thrown in, as a prize;

THAT public employes should not pay political assessments;

THAT merit should be recognized and rewarded and civil service extended to all matters of political control;

THAT water meters, for domestic use, should not be foisted on the householder;

THAT public parks should be made public playgrounds and not turned over to private golf clubs;

THAT civic pride as well as civic virtues should be cultivated;

THAT every dollar of taxation should bring the taxpayer a dollar's worth of return, under plain, honest, efficient management, such as you would give to your own business, and that Greater Pittsburgh should be known as a Republican city, and not proclaimed as an accession to the ranks of the Democracy; and

of the mismanagement, broken promises and false pretense of the Democratic-Citizens regime, now in control of your city, then you will
